Littlest graduates get diplomas

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

The Antioch Head Start class of 1992-1993 held its graduation ceremony at the Tower Room in Antioch last week. The use of the Tower Room was graciously donated by the owners.

During the graduation, parents and families were treated to a number of songs. The children received diplomas or certificates, and Thera Ramos, Lake County Head Start Director, had a few words of advice to the parents.

"We do not want this to be their last graduation" said Ramos. "I want all of you parents to do your part."

Over 15 children received their diplomas, while 13 students, not yet kindergarten age, received certificates.

The Antioch Head Start program is a federally funded program for low income and special needs preschoolers. It is located at the St. Stephen's Church on Hillside.

The center has been at that location for three years. Before moving there, it was located on the Lake Villa grounds of the Central Baptist Children's Home.

The center is licensed for 31 children between the ages of 4 and 5. The program runs from September to May, and the children attend from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Busing, breakfast and lunches are provided.

The program focus is on the entire development of the child. There are many field trips, monthly library visits, and (Continued on page 9)

Iceless hockey alive

League, family of child with disability look for solutions

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

What began as a routine sign-up of an 11-year-old for an Iceless Hockey team last fall, has turned into a battle of principles which could, in the long run, threaten the league's existence.

At the center of the controversy is a bright-eyed youth named Patrick Brankin, who unfortunately was born and diagnosed with Down's syndrome, a congenital condition characterized by mental deficiencies. Patrick just wants to play iceless hockey like a number of his school mates at Lake Villa's Pleviak School.

However, Patrick played only a half of a game last winter, after officials at the Lake Villa Iceless Hockey League determined Patrick's play "dangerous" to other children on the floor.

The complaint filed by the Brankin's, Rick and Donna on behalf of their son, with the Illinois Department of Human Rights and the State of Illinois Board of Education, now could doom the future of one of the area's most popular sports for youth to participate in.

On one side are the Brankins, who believe their son can be taught stick control and the rules of the iceless hockey game, so he can play at a level that would be safe for himself and those who participate with him.

"We are not looking for special treatment," said Brankin. "We just want reasonable accommodation for Patrick."

One the other is Paul LaRouche, president of the league, and the league board of directors, which makes policy and makes the personnel choices for the league.

LaRouche admits to giving Brankin a tryout for Patrick, despite breaking a league tradition of not doing so, to see if Patrick could play and not become a safety factor.

"Patrick was wild with his stick," said LaRouche. "I would love to see Patrick play in the league, but we can't take the chance of him hurting someone else with his wild stick."

What makes this league unique, is the fact that this is a totally volunteer league run by the parents of the kids participating. The $25 entrance fee pays for the players shirts, sticks, pucks and trophies, all of which is returned to the players, in one form or another, by the end of the year, said LaRouche.

Residents honor veterans

As the haunting last strains of Taps floated over the hills of Antioch, the VFW Memorial Day services were concluded. Many Antioch residents came out to the ceremony at Hillside Cemetery to honor veterans.

The VFW Post, the Antioch American Legion, and Cub Scout Troop 190 were present to pay tribute to the fallen servicemen of all wars. Despite the cool, windy weather, there was a good turnout for the services.

The ceremony began at 11 a.m. at Orchard and Toft Streets. The participants placed a large wreath by the cannon. The services then proceeded to the Hillside Cemetery.

After a brief graveside prayer, there was a rifle salute. At the conclusion of the ceremony, Taps was played by two Antioch High School students.

For all who attended, it was a beautiful and moving ceremony.

Word was received last week that the school has been selected to receive a Blue Ribbon Excellence in Education Award from the Department of Education. After the school submitted a 37-page application, a representative came for a site visit. School officials were fairly confident that the qualifications of Mundelein High School were impressive enough to warrant serious consideration. They were correct.

GRAYSLAKE—The Village of Grayslake is making progress when it comes to its bond rating. Grayslake now has an A1 rating from Moody's, up from a rating of A. The rating is for the general obligation bonds, series 1993. Trustees agreed to refund the bonds and set up an escrow agreement with American National Bank and Trust Co. The interest rate is 5.46 percent.

Wauconda principal retires after 31 years

WAUCONDA—After working in Wauconda School District 118 for 31 years, Robert Crown Grade School Principal Edward Hansen has decided to retire. Hansen was hired in 1962 as a fourth-grade teacher at Wauconda Grade School. Two years later he became the fifth-grade teacher and assistant principal and became principal in 1965 until 1984. He became the district's director of special education, and two years later became the Robert Crown Grade School principal, and later added the position of principal of the Kindergarten Center at the high school to his repertoire. "I love the kids and I am going to miss them tremendously," Hansen said, but after working double duty much of the time, he now wants to do other things besides work. The kindergarten classes presented him with a tree planted in his honor in front of the school on May 27.

WW II veteran receives medals

NORTH CHICAGO—A 68 year old WW II veteran received three military medals for overseas service he earned while stationed in the Philippines nearly half a century ago at a formal dinner at the North Chicago Veterans of Foreign Wars post. Roosevelt Henley received the WW II Victory Medal, the Asiatic Pacific Campaign Medal and the American Campaign Medal, all of which were apparently lost by the Navy due to a mix-up in processing Henley's release papers.

Buried treasure? Not this time!

MUNDELEIN—A Mundelein resident who began innocently turning up soil for a garden turned up more than he bargained for when he dug up a hand grenade Monday. Mundelein police and members of the bomb disposal unit from Waukegan discovered the grenade had been emptied and was not going to produce any fireworks.

Heroes honored for rescue of young child

WAUCONDA—In recognition of their heroic actions earlier this year, Wauconda Fire Captain Richard McGill and Libertyville resident Peg Ramson were presented with medals of honor for rescuing a little girl and preventing her injury. Both were involved with successfully stopping Michael Hoary's truck with his two and one-half year old daughter Allyson hanging on the back on March 28.

Profane language at town meeting

LAKE VILLA—Lake Villa Township Highway Commissioner Jim Semmerling called Township Supervisor a whore in the last township meeting. Hanson, Township Attorney Paul Phillips and Trustee Sue Prochnow heard Semmerling make the remark. Phillips said Semmerling also called him a whore in the meeting. Phillips said that it was one of the nicest things Semmerling called him in the meeting. Trustees Joe Hamm and Michelle Wolf didn't comment in the statement. Semmerling didn't return phone calls from Lakeland Newspapers.

North Chicago Schools raise $100,000 in pledges

NORTH CHICAGO—The "Partners in Progress: Save Our Schools" telethon has received close to $100,000 in pledge money from several organizations. They include Abbot and Baxter Laboratories, Amoco Chemical Co., Goelitz Confectionary Co., Stone Container Corp., and the First Corinthian Missionary Baptist Church of North Chicago. "We are a long way from $1 million," said North Chicago Mayor Bobby E. Thompson, "that is our pledge, and we are working really hard toward that goal." Thompson said that money received from the telethon would help keep important learning programs intact in North Chicago Schools.

Town Board creates job for supervisor candidate

LAKE VILLA—The Lake Villa Township Board hired SURE Party candidate Karen Sullivan as operations manager at $24,000 a year. Township Supervisor Sue Hanson said there is no job description and that the SURE Party is trying to subvert her authority. SURE Party Trustees Jack Hamm said Sullivan was hired to insure programs on the SURE party platform such as senior programs and expanded township hours are implemented. The board passed the motion to hire Sullivan after the township attorney advised them that it was illegal to hire Sullivan the position of operations manager. Hanson said that the township usually creates a job before it hires someone. Hanson and Trustee Sue Prochnow accused the SURE Party trustees of discussing hiring Sullivan illegally. Hamm says he drafted the motion himself the night before the meeting. The attorney is checking into the legality of the hiring.

Itching dogs can mean signs of allergy, infection

All dog owners have seen their dogs itch and scratch. Some times they scratch a little, other times quite a bit. At times the poor dog itches so badly, that he gets no rest and his skin develops sores and scabs. There is very little one can do to help. Well, there is help, in fact, a lot can be done to ease this kind of discomfort. The first thing is to find out the cause of itching. Most of us immediately think of fleas. Fleas do cause most of the itching observed in dogs, but there are many other causes. As fleas cause skin allergy, so do other factors.

During the summer and fall months especially, plant origin particles, pollens, spores and molds in the air can affect ones immune system and cause a reaction. This reaction in a person is known as hay fever. In dogs, skin becomes the target. The worst part of the season seems to be August and September. There are other causes of itching, such as infections, mange and others, so one should never make any assumptions. To make sure that proper care is given, ask your veterinarian to diagnose the problem correctly. Progress in immunology allows us to determine sources of allergies from a single blood sample taken from the patient. The next step is then to desensitize the itching patient with preparations made especially for him.

Do not ignore an itching dog. Itching is common, but is not normal and it is uncomfortable. Help is available and your pet deserves to be comfortable. —by DR. KRZACZYNSKI

Protect household pets from unplanned parenthood

by DR. J. KRZACZYNSKI
Gurnee Pet Clinic

Most of us acquire an animal to share our home with us as a pet. Certainly this is a very good way of life, with plenty of nourishing food, fresh water, a dry and warm place to sleep and of course love and lots of affection.

The pet responds to these favors by returning his or her affection and by accepting certain rules of socialization. Animals can learn to control their behavior, not to soil your carpet or chew your belongings. The reproductive instincts, however, cannot be controlled.

Owners interested in breeding animals will put up with nuisances such as the less clean aspects of a female dog in heat, the nervousness and noisy behavior of a female roaming and the fighting of a tomcat or objectionable mounting efforts of a mature dog. Their reward is successful reproduction of quality breed. Finding a home for a puppy or kitten may be difficult. No one knows how many are born in the United States each year, but the numbers are staggering. We know that there are well over 105 million dogs and cats. Since there are only 84 million households in the country, increasing numbers of these animals are homeless. Shelters being overcrowded, these animals that cannot be placed in homes are humanely destroyed daily. Others die of starvation, disease, or injury on the street. Animal population is everyone's problem.

If not interested in breeding, one has a choice of permanently protecting his or her pet from unplanned parenthood. By doing so, we can control all the undesired aspects of reproduction mentioned above, but above all, we contribute to curbing the sad overpopulation problem.

unwanted breeding. The result is a better pet, an animal who is owner oriented, happier and healthier. The owner's life is made easier.

Ulterior Motive

No wonder Jim Fields wants the riverboat in. Isn't it true he has some family members with their resumes in there?

More power

We keep hearing about the need for power in the Lake Zurich area. Now that summer is here the power outages will be more frequent. When is the village board going to give Com Ed the go ahead to build the new substation. We need more power.

Whatever Happened

What has happened to all of the programs Dr. Palombi initiated in District 41? In less than a year, the Lake Villa School Board was a helping hand of our interim superintendent to destroy all of the programs. Maybe that's why they hired her in the first place. She had the "no"-how to destroy everything.

Out of Service

I am from Antioch and have a big complaint. It is Saturday night and once again, the cable is out. It has been out for over two and a half hours! I am not going to pay them for the time it is out. You do not pay for services that are not rendered.

Forgot A Spot

A lot of credit should go to Fremont Library in Mundelein. They did a beautiful job painting and doing everything nice. But, the men's washroom is a disgrace. Did you run out of paint? Plus the doors are a mess and the toilet doesn't flush. I wonder what the ladies room looks like. It is too bad that they can do such a beautiful job on the outside and forget something as important as the bathroom.

Why Ask Why

If we have such an honorable mayor, why does Fox Lake only have one funeral home in town? Why is he a dictator in the town meetings?

Earache

The Antioch Rescue Squads sirens are a real nuisance if you live in the town. They actually hurt your ears!

I'd like the EPA to come out and test them, since I am sure they are way too loud.

Lack of Support

This is to the Lake Villa teacher who never supported the new superintendent. If you support children the way you supported her, I have to question your professionalism.

Highway Robbery

Let's impeach Clinton now. We cannot afford any more taxes. It is highway robbery.

Nice Ad

I think Lisa R's back page advertisement thanking people was very nice. I think the ARC people would have done a lot better by asking her to come to the Antioch Township Board meeting. After all, she is related to one of the trustees.

No More Tax

I just heard on the radio that President Clinton and Congress want to raise our taxes again. The spending cuts were defeated. The cigarette tax was defeated. My husband and I live on $40,000 a year. More tax will kill us. Congressmen make $130,000 a year. They sure aren't worth it.

Mad Wife

I am married to a Fox Lake policeman and have a few things to say. Those of you who complain are probably the same people who get tickets for failing to have Fox Lake stickers, even though they are free. If they get an address wrong, it may mean you were at fault. Maybe you did not speak clearly. When someone is breaking into your house think about calling them incompetent fools.

Don't Look

I met my wife at Sandy and Gwen's about a year ago. I should say my former wife. What a tramp. Stay alone guys, it is a lot easier.

Root Of Problems

Hey, Lipservice callers and Lakelife writers to the editor, the real problem is your hatred. Whether it is towards dogs, cats, other races, or disabled persons. That is the real problem that needs fixing.

Holiday ends with death for Rte. 12 traveler

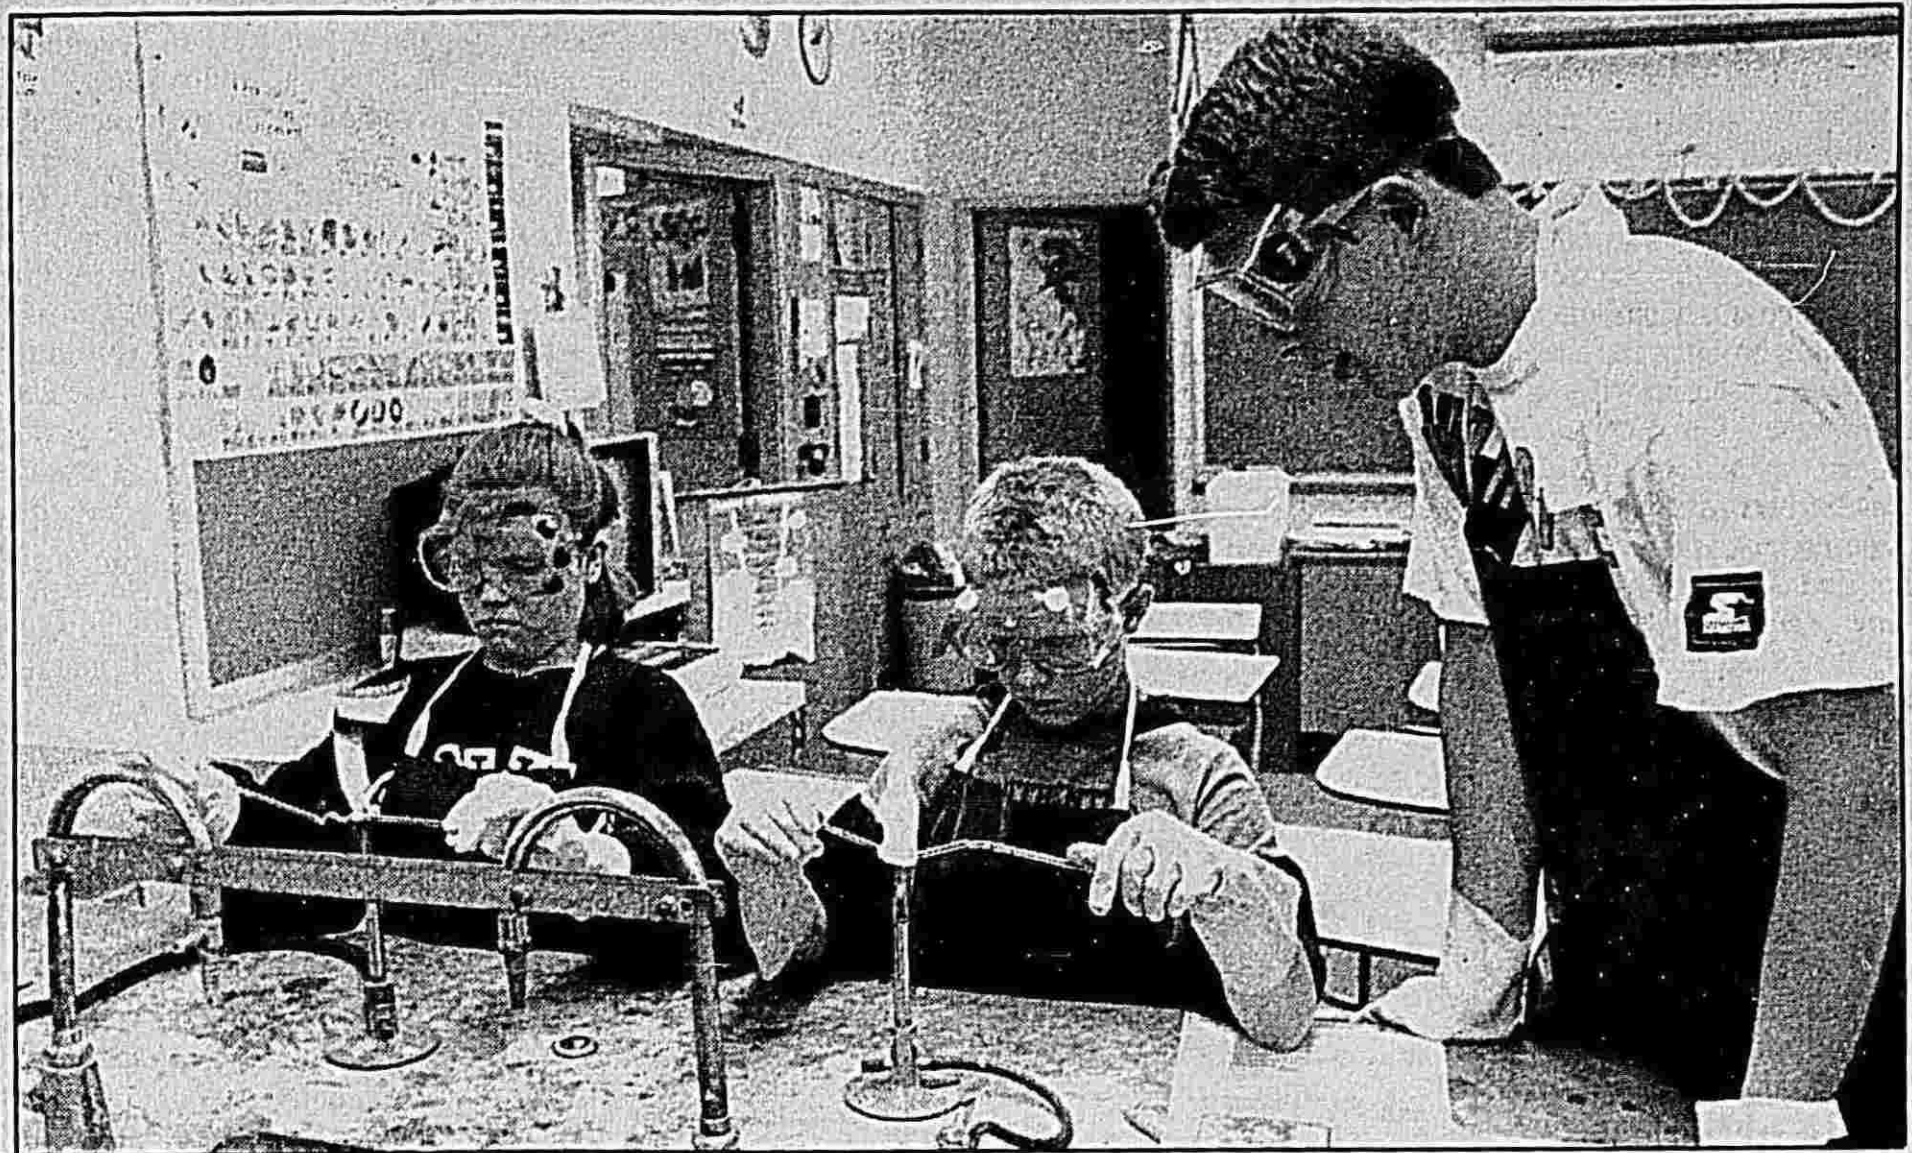

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Charges have been filed against a Wonder Lake woman in the death of a Chicago woman after a Memorial Day accident on Rte. 12 near Fox Lake.

Carole J. Riegler, 49, of Chicago, was pronounced dead at 9:10 p.m. at Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry of injuries suffered in the crash. She was not wearing a seatbelt.

According to Lake County Sgt. Vernon Hoch, Lisa A. Coyle, 28, of 2908 Walnut Ave., was charged with reckless homicide, failure to show insurance and driving without a seatbelt in connection with a three car accident on Rte. 12, west of State Park Rd at 5:22 p.m. on May 31.

Police reports stated that Coyle's car apparently veered out of the west bound lane and entered the east bound lane of traffic, striking Riegler's car, which caused Coyle's car to rotate clockwise. Coyle's car finally rested on top of a car driven by Craig P. Andersen, 40, of Rolling Meadows. Andersen was treated and released from NIMC, according to a hospital spokesman.

Safety measures can help prevent child from drowning

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

Fox Lake and Antioch area families are breathing a sigh of relief after a three-year-old youth almost drowned after walking off the family's concrete breakfront this week.

Quick reactions and good common sense saved Jeffrey Collins Jr.'s life when he fell into the water in a Petite Lake channel and was pulled out by his parents.

Fox Lake Capt. Erik Ullberg and

Antioch Rescue Squad Lt. Tim Osmond have thoughts of their own on how to prevent, what they call, a common occurrence every summer.

Osmond and Ullberg said that their respective fire departments and rescue squads receive several call a summer from distraught parents who believe their child has drowned.

Both rescue veterans believe the best defense against a repeat of the near disaster last week is to closely supervise young children when they are near the water.

"Strict supervision, especially near the water is the key," said Ullberg. "Keep your eyes and ears open for possible trouble when your kids are near the water."

Ullberg adds that water safety training, even for young children, is a must for those who live near a body of water or own a deep swimming pool.

"Children need to understand the dangers of the water and what to do if they get into trouble," said Ullberg.

Osmond adds that all parents should know CPR and those that don't should seek classes immediately. Both the Antioch Rescue Squad and Fox Lake Fire Department conduct CPR classes semi-annually.

Another problem area Osmond points out is that some people wait too long to call the rescue squad or fire department when trouble arises.

"Don't be afraid to call the rescue squad if something happens," said Osmond. "When you are talking about a drowning victim, minutes, even seconds count. Then sooner we are there, the better off the victim is, even if it is not serious."

However one of the easiest ways to prevent drowning by small children playing near the water is to secure their lives with the use of a life vest.

"Always have a safety vest on when you are on or near the water," said Osmond. "They even make them for very small people with Popeye or other characters on them."

Finally, Osmond and Ullberg said to use the buddy system when playing on or near the water.

"That young boy's life was saved because he was playing with a friend when he fell into the water, which meant help came quickly," said Osmond.

Watershed meeting

The next meeting of the Sequoit Creek Watershed Citizens' Advisory Committee will be held on Wednesday, June 9, at 7 p.m. in the Antioch Township Hall, 99 Hwy. 173, Antioch. The public is invited to attend. For additional information, contact the Lake County Soil and Water Conservation District at 223-1056.

Bandleader could face 14 for sex with student

by THOMAS STEVENS
Lakeland Newspapers

A 25-year-old former Antioch Community High School bandleader faces up to 14 years in prison for admitting he had sex with a 15-year-old student last year.

James Peterson pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of aggravated criminal sexual abuse on May 27 in an agreement with prosecutors presented to Lake County Circuit Judge Henry Tonigan.

The former assistant band leader at ACHS, who resigned his position with the school in January after charges were filed, admitted to having sex with the girl in his apartment in Salem, Wis. and at the home of a friend of the girl, in Round Lake Beach, during the past school year. Peterson faces similar charges in a Kenosha court next week.

According to Assistant State's Attorney Steve Scheller, the plea bargain was offered to Peterson in order to save the victim the trauma and humiliation of having to participate in a trial.

Scheller did not comment on what kind of sentence he would be asking for when Peterson returns to court on June 28. With the reduced charges, Peterson is eligible for a shorter jail time, work release programs, and probation.

Tiny graduates march on at Camp Crayon

Special program

The Annual Camp Crayon Spring Program/Graduation was performed to a very large audience. All of the children did a marvelous job performing and singing. Special mention goes to our "Down By The River" quintet—Jenny Schrieber, Tricia Pringle, Eddie Lindstrom, Kaite Turner and Missy Carroll. Also little Meaghan Shanahan did a great job singing two beautiful solos—"Oh What A Beautiful Morning" and "Start All Over Again." The tears flowed freely as the tiny graduates marched out in their red and white caps and gowns.

Special thanks are extended to the parents for their help and cooperation throughout the year. Special recognition and thanks to Carol Todd, Parks Department Director, for not only attending the Wednesday program, but also for helping us during and afterwards with supervision at our picnic outing.

Newly elected Mayor Shineflug took time out of her busy schedule to attend the Thursday morning program. It was truly an honor having her in the audience. Donna Schmehl (Miss Donna) was able to arrange her new job schedule to attend the Thursday afternoon performance to show continued love and support of the children.

Thank you, Mr. Garcia, Mr. Guido and Mrs. Turner for helping with the video camera. Special thanks to Karen Gieser (Kacey Siwula's grandma) and Fran Adelizzi (Paige Majewski's grandma) for helping get the little ones into their caps and gowns. Karen Georgson, our hand-made name pins were great and we wore them with pride and love during all three programs. Thanks to the children and parents who presented us with special end of the year gifts. The hand-made name cards created by the children were beautiful.

Last, but not least, Miss Marie was very excited and even slightly nervous to see Sue Haley (Miss Sue) in the large audience of visitors. Miss Sue worked at Camp Crayon when Marie Brausam first started ten years ago. It is always heart warming seeing old friends. Sue's appearance at the Thursday morning program made it even more memorable.

Incidentally, the graduates will be listed in next week's column.

Beauty pageant

Once again the Antioch Parks and Recreation Dept. will be sponsoring the annual Miss and Little Miss Antioch Pageants. The dates of the contest are Friday, June 25 for Miss Antioch and Sunday, June 27 for Little Miss. The entry deadline is Friday, June 11 at 5 p.m. Call Carol Todd at 395-2160 for further information.

I know a beautiful 18 year old, with a gorgeous smile, that I would love to see enter. You know who you are and I would be honored to sit in the audience and cheer you on. Go for it, and call me after you register.

Awards night

As a school board member, I had an occasion to attend the annual Grass Lake School junior high awards night. It was truly a memorable evening. Many students were on hand to receive awards for academic achievement, effort, music, art and sports. The auditorium was beautifully decorated with a variety of the students' art work.

As I browsed through the collection, I was drawn to a beautiful "Panda Bear" by Tami Edelman, a life like "Chipmunk" by Jenny Cardis, a "Seal" by Teri Mozal and an "Eagle" by Steve Franzen. I did this from memory, kids, and I hope I got it right.

Each year the teachers pick two eighth graders to receive the "Citizenship Award." This year the special honor went to Sandy Webel and Eric Schultz. Principal, Ginny Mann, was very proud to be on hand to congratulate everyone and introduce the recipients of the many honor roll plaques.

evening was the announcement of the class salutatorian and valedictorian.

Superintendent, Dr. Ruth Bill, was honored to step to the podium to present these two highest awards. Before doing so, she reminded everyone that these chosen students would be giving special speeches at graduation. As the names were disclosed and the students stepped forward to receive their plaques, the audience rose with applause. Congratulations to everyone on a job well done and extra special congratulations to Cynthia Jones, the class salutatorian and Paul Grob, the class valedictorian.

I will see you at graduation and I know both of your speeches will be fantastic.

Happy birthday

In just a few short days all of the area schools will be starting the summer recess time. This means that even more children will be out and about during the day time, walking, riding bicycles, roller skating, etc. Due to the absence of sidewalks in most rural areas, some of the children may be engaging in these activities on the back roads, etc. Always drive carefully and even more so this time of year when the roadways are shared by many.

It is also time for my monthly birthday list. A very Happy June Birthday wish is extended to Rich Cheterbok, Danny Clarke, Leslie Collins, Laura Falcone, Heidi Gwinn, Craig Hancock, Jake Harkness, Janet Harrison, John Kasprzak, Korin Knutson, Greg Laube, Ariana Neuner, Darlene Olenick, Marlene Olsen, Sr., Bill Parenti, Christopher Schaller, Bertha Schmehl and Justin Ward.

Enjoy you summer, stop and smell the roses in your lives, be careful and stay happy.

While the program receives funding from the Federal government, that funding does not cover much. Many of the extras are provided through donations. The program is always looking for adult volunteers.

DiMarco's prepared for outdoor cafe request

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Frank DiMarco, owner of DiMarco's Restaurant on Main Street in Antioch is prepared to present a request for an outdoor cafe to the Antioch Village Board next week.

Initially, the restaurant sought permission for the cafe in early May.

However, the Board had a number of issues that needed to be addressed first. Insurance questions, barrier problems, and municipal ordinances needed to be evaluated.

"We've been okayed by the Lake County Health Department and we are all set with the insurance" said DiMarco. "We are ready."

Currently, there are umbrella tables on the sidewalk, in front of the restaurant. Nevertheless, food and beverages cannot be served until the restaurant gets the okay from the village board.

Originally, the purpose of the tables and chairs were to allow diners a place to sit while waiting for an available table.

Iceless hockey

"There are no practices or workouts," said LaRouche. "The kids just show up, play and go home. That is it."

The league last year also refused the entrance of a child with cerebral palsy and another Down's syndrome victim on the same safety concerns without complaint from those parents, according to LaRouche.

However, the Brankin's continue to pursue their child's dream to play iceless hockey because he wants to play.

"He says, 'Why won't the men let me play,'" said Donna Brankin. "You don't know how much that hurts to hear him say that."

Iceless hockey coach Paul Phillips, who serves as the village attorney for Lindenhurst, said the legal issue here is "Do the handicapped have the right to participate?"

"If the kid can perform, let the child play," said Phillips in a telephone interview. Phillips added that the schools got involved when they heard about the complaint against the league and wished to avoid a lawsuit against them.

"The schools don't want to get involved with this," said LaRouche. "I don't blame them."

Antioch District 34 and Lake Villa District 41 refused to comment on the iceless hockey issue.

Both Brankin and LaRouche hope to find a solution to the crisis before the league begins sign-up in November.

"I hope a solution can be reached," said Brankin. "I never wished to halt or close the league. I just want to get Patrick an opportunity to play."

LaRouche seemed just as upbeat about a possible solution in the next few weeks.

Different sirens

Editor:

Recently people have called regarding the sirens in Antioch. I will try to give a short explanation.

There are three whistles in Antioch for various purposes as follows.

1. ESDA or Storm Warning—Whistle sounds like air raid sirens in old war movies.

This whistle is tested monthly on the first Tuesday at 10 a.m. If a storm is approaching and a tornado warning is issued, a long four minute straight tone is sounded telling the public to turn on the radio or TV for the latest information.

The second sound is an oscillating up and down tone indicating an air raid or nuclear attack telling people to take cover.

2. Fire Whistle—A high pitch oscillating tone for 45 seconds. This whistle blows from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily to notify firefighters who may be doing jobs where pagers cannot be worn and to indicate to the public to be on alert for volunteers making their way to the station. This is also the noon whistle.

3. Rescue Squad Whistles—A low pitched oscillating whistle blowing for approximately two minutes. Blows 24 hours a day for the same purpose as previously stated.

If a particular whistle is bothering you, please direct your complaint to the proper organization.

Safety trip foretells future rail service

by BILL SCHROEDER

Lakeland Newspapers

Passengers rode the rails in central Lake County for the first time in nearly 30 years, providing a preview of what rail commuting due to start in 1996 will be like.

True, the passengers in four Metra double-deckers and a domed observation car were on a one-day excursion as part of a safety observance, but they were afforded a taste of sights and sounds of rail commuter service scheduled to begin on the Wisconsin Central in three years.

Railroad representatives and municipalities boarded at two points, Franklin Park and Wheeling, for the trip north to Antioch, which will be the terminus for 53 miles of new suburb-to-downtown Chicago trains linking mid-county towns to Chicago Union Station and O'Hare Airport.

Edward Burkhardt, president of the line operating profitably and growing since purchasing 2,000 miles of Soo Line track in 1987, is enthused about adding commuter service to freight business that has grown from the Soo's six trains a week to Wisconsin Central's 14 trains a day.

By 1995, the line expects to be operating 20 freights a day to set the stage for 14 Metra commuters serving Antioch, Lake Villa, Round Lake Beach, Grayslake/Libertyville, Mundelein, Vernon Hills, Lincolnshire, Buffalo Grove, Wheeling, Prospect Heights and DeKalb (Des Plaines).

A 12th station has been proposed for O'Hare to allow Metra to connect with the airport's people mover. Wisconsin Central now passes O'Hare miles north of the proposed connection to Metra's existing Milwaukee Dist. West Line running to Fox Lake at "Junction B-12" east of Franklin Park.

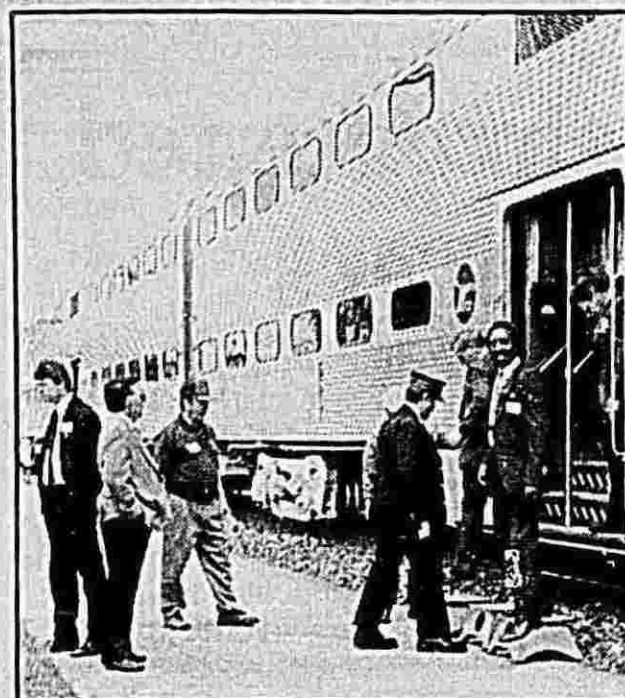

In keeping with the trip's theme of promoting rail crossing safety, Burkhardt emphasized that governmental agencies and the railroad work together to "alleviate rail-highway problems" and produce a joint grade crossing plan.

Until fairly recently, there were many unguarded crossings in rural area along the former Soo Line. Now, with rapid urbanization, both the railroad and local governments are hard-pressed to equip crossings with gates and/or warning devices.

For the one-day trip, the history making passenger train was known as the Lifesaver Train. Wisconsin Central employees and executives, many of them sporting distinctive maroon sports shirts with WC insignia provided passengers with a running commentary on operations and future plans.

Planners are predicting 2,400 average daily boardings for the 1996 start-up, a large percentage coming from the current ridership on Milwaukee North, Milwaukee West and the Chicago & North Western northwest lines.

The planners also expect a strong reverse-commute to develop.

Authorities are theorizing that the transfer of ridership will smooth out traffic flow, relieve parking congestion and provide better all-around service.

In March of this year, Metra received a federal grant to begin preliminary engineering and environmental assessment studies. Total federal aid has been pegged at $21.6 million during the next three years. Metra also is pursuing an additional $20.6 million in federal funding. The total of $2.2 million in federal funding would be matched by $39.2 in state and local funding, municipal contributions in-kind like land for commuter stations and value of rolling stock.

While travelers enjoyed a delightful May day and a box lunch during a stop at Lake Villa, Metra aides distributed a fact sheet on future service on Wisconsin Central.

Perhaps prophetically, the bottom line of the fact sheet was the projection of operating expenses estimated at $6.1 million per year, and operating revenues estimated at $3.7 million. The shortfall will be made up from other sources.

Bob Love kicks off Omni Youth Services' new board of ambassadors

When Chicago Bulls legend, Bob Love, addressed the newly created Board of Ambassadors of Omni Youth Services on May 7 at La TiTi de Paris in Arlington Heights, he demonstrated that he is perhaps a greater star today than ever before.

Despite setting just about every scoring record in Bulls history, including All-Time Leading Scorer—a feat only recently surpassed by Michael Jordan, Love told his story of lifelong ridicule that reduced him, despite his illustrious 12 years as an NBA superstar, to menial jobs like busboy and dishwasher, earning a mere $4.25 an hour just 8 years ago.

He relived the hurt and shame of being looked at as "less than smart" and inevitably passed over in the lockerroom after each and every "big game" as though he were literally invisible to the media, their cameras and microphones. As devastating as it was, the reason was simple: Bob Love could not speak; he stuttered. On the court, he "did it all," but off the court, because of an obstacle he could not deny, Love was never able to enjoy the kinds of endorsements, speaking engagements and media coverage to which he was clearly entitled. Those opportunities, albeit often unjustly so, seemed to belong to everyone else but him.

But, Love had a dream and held fast to it for 45 years—a dream that someday he, too, would be able to speak—that he would be like Martin Luther King or JFK, standing before a crowd and "the words would flow" and the people would listen and truly care. Today, incredibly, his dream has become his reality, having rejoined the Chicago Bulls nine months ago as their new Director of Community Relations.

Thanks to his last employer, Nordstrom's, Love's dedication to hard work, perseverance and self-motivation was recognized and he was provided with the kind of speech therapy that helped him overcome his devastating speech impediment. Once again a star with the Bulls, he speaks to area schools and non-profit organizations, encouraging youngsters to value their families, schoolteachers and education; take personal responsibility for their behavior and success; and find whatever strength and courage is necessary to overcome obstacles that may hold them back from realizing their dreams. To those fortunate enough to hear Bob Love's heartfelt and powerful story, as did Omni's Board of Ambassadors, it is clear that this 6'10" gentleman is indeed a giant in more ways than one.

Bob Love is to the Bulls, much like the new Board of Ambassadors is to Omni Youth Services—advocates of personal responsibility and stronger, more caring family and community relations. Through his painfully honest and touching personal story of turning adversity into opportunity, Love is living proof of the power of people helping people. His message of hope and inspiration moved the Board of Ambassadors of Omni to action in a way they won't soon forget.

For over twenty years, Omni Youth Services has been a valuable resource in our communities and encourages a strong, active volunteer base to help them carry out their programs. Those interested in becoming Omni volunteers may call 537-7603. Omni services include family, group and individual counseling, substance abuse treatment and prevention, child abuse services, school social work services, youth development programs, peer leadership training, parent programming and liaison to schools and police. Their newly created Board of Ambassadors is limited by Charter to 100 members who represent a full diversity of gender, race, age and background, including entrepreneurs, owners of businesses, corporate executives and other influential community leaders. For further information about the nomination process to become a member of Omni's Board of Ambassadors, contact Michael J. Sullivan, Chairman, at 520-9300.

Taxpayers forgotten

Battle over kitchen inspection fees ought to be dropped.

Lashing out for more revenue in the face of tax caps, the Lake County Health Dept. might have lashed at the wrong people. A hornets nest of opposition has erupted over the department's proposal to levy a fee for inspecting kitchens in schools and other non-profit organizations.

Apparently department moguls who concocted the revenue enhancement scheme and County Board politicians who gave the plan said to raise $150,000 a year the greenlight, haven't heard that the schools are having revenue problems of their own.

School response was notable for a revenue enhancement of their own from educators in Waukegan and Libertyville

High School who announced that they are considering plans to charge the county for using schools for polling places. Touche!

With election machinery introduced, County Clerk Linda Hess has been drawn into the fray. Wait a minute, folks, cried Hess, who added up possible polling place rental costs and came up about $80,000 short in her budget for elections. Hess, with no little self interest, has volunteered to mediate differences between the schools and the health department.

As an experienced and responsible public official, Hess can be counted upon to remind the warring factions that both sides are serving the same boss, John Q. Citizen, and that taking money out of one of John's pockets to stick in another doesn't make much sense. So the kitchen fee vs. poll rental battle could well be dropped. A better question is what to do about all the hands that already are in John's pockets?

Gambling with schools

Edgar gets Daley's attention about school funding problems with riverboat gambling proposition.

Much as the prospect of another gambling scheme to fund Illinois public schools is to be deplored, Gov. Jim Edgar may be on the right track by linking approval of riverboat gambling for Chicago with a requirement that some of the tax revenue be spent on city schools.

That places a major part of the Illinois school funding problem squarely where it belongs---in Chicago.

Because he lacks the political courage to stand up to the monolithic Chicago Teacher's Union, Mayor Richard Daley is loathe to share city gambling tax with the Chicago Public Schools.

Despite intense Democratic and big city media pressure for the General Assembly to "fulfill Constitutional requirements" for public school funding, suburban Republicans and downstate legislators know that any release of new school moneys will be sucked into the "black hole" of education in Chicago. Our community and the rest of the state suffers due to lack of Chicago school reform and concessions from the Chicago Teacher's Union.

The emergency aid voted North Chicago schools, we believe, is an indication that legislators can do what's right and necessary for public education in Illinois when they aren't encumbered by Chicago politics. In a convoluted sort of way, the Chicago casino gambling greenlight can be "what's right" if the proper strings are attached.

Daley is a high profile example of what happens when local officialdom takes a stand-offish attitude about school spending. That's how unaffordable teachers' contracts are exacted from defenseless board of education members who stand unsupported before the onslaught of professional union organizers and high-priced attorneys who are demanding more and more.

Edgar is putting Daley's feet to the fire. Good for him. Instead of joining the chorus bleating for the General Assembly "to do more for education," elected officials at all levels ought to take a closer look at local school spending. Maybe you don't like the way Edgar is doing it, but it's hard to deny that he has a mayor thinking seriously about school funding.

Majority rule threatened by society's tinkerers

by VIRGINIA PARK
Lakeland Newspapers

Last week we wrote about Lani Guinier, President Clinton's nominee to head the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Dept. There is more...

In March 1991 she wrote a 77 page brief in the Michigan Law Review in which she said, "In a system shaped by irrational, majority prejudice, justice may have to be found in 'remedial mechanisms that eliminate pure majority rule.'"

That's pretty frightening stuff—at least to me. My background and education have led me to believe that the heart and soul of democracy is majority rule with "one-man, one vote". What could be more fair?

The crux of the whole matter is the term "minorities" which has racial and ethnic overtones. In America we should have only Americans.

If people are to become American citizens, they should wear their national origin or race simply as an ornament of their culture, and bring to their citizenship the same weight as any other beneficiary of our American system of government.

I already have sincere reservations about the authenticity of many voters today. With the "motor-voter" law just approved, the actual registration process may be fraught with even more possibilities of fraud.

Will they be sworn in by a legislative officer with the proper authority as at the courthouse, or subsidiary thereof, which was the procedure when I became an election judge about forty years ago? Or will many illegal aliens who have never become citizens in the proper manner be pulling their weight at the ballot box just because they're here, accepting our largess and thinking they have a right to vote. A resident is not the same as a citizen, which fact seems to be overlooked.

Mid-county commuter line catching on: '96 report

by BILL SCHROEDER

Fast forward to 1996.

Rail commuting is beginning on the new mid-county system on the Wisconsin Central, providing some of Lake County's fastest growing communities with a new transportation dimension to O'Hare Airport and downtown Chicago.

Metra is running 14 trains daily---seven each way---with rush hour and intermediate service between north Cook County and Antioch. Where convenient, veteran rail commuters are switching from the NorthWestern line and the Fox Lake spur. There is demonstrated evidence that drivers are leaving their cars at the string of attractive, modern commuter stations at Buffalo Grove, Vernon Hills, Mundelein, Libertyville-Grayslake, Round Lake Beach, Lake Villa and Antioch.

Gov. Jim Edgar is using the new commuter service as a showpiece in his campaign for a second term. Martin Buehler, veteran director of the Lake County Div. of Transportation, hails the line as an example of forward thinking in the late 80's and early 90's. County Board Chairman Robert Depke, invincible as the county's top governmental and political leader, says the new service will provide a magnet for continued economic development and new jobs without putting more pressure on the county's antiquated highway system.

Village officials along the Wisconsin Central are congratulating each other that the new service, while a long time coming, is well worth the wait because it enhances the quality of life and reduces taxes.

Initial reaction of new riders is positive. They feel the county's central rail line is cutting their commuting time. Lake County residents everywhere are looking forward to the O'Hare link and connection with the three-year-old people mover service. Urbanologists are extolling the new line because it also is being used, as they predicted, heavily by residents of closer-in suburbs commuting to jobs in Vernon area office parks, the Motorola plant on Rte. 45 and some of the new industries that have sprung up in Grayslake, the Lake Villa-Lindenhurst area and Antioch.

South county commuters like the spacious parking area west of Wheeling's fabulously successful water park. Buffalo Grove residents are extolling the virtues of boarding at their own station or driving to Wheeling.

Old habits die slowly so many Lincolnshire commuters still are driving to Deerfield to catch NorthWestern trains. Dense woods surrounding Indian Creek remain as a notable "nature break" between industry on both sides of the line south of Vernon Hills and the maturing subdivisions on either side of the tracks north of Mundelein.

Grayslake and Libertyville officials finally have resigned themselves to the fact that they can share the Prairie Crossing station off Rtes. 21 and 83. And both can "share" the inarguable eyesore of the county's major landfill that protrudes into the suburban sky nearby.

A growing number of residents in Round Lake Beach, central Lake County's population center, now realize their foresight in purchasing new homes back in 1993 near the Mallard Creek station off Rollins Rd., eliminating the hassle of cross-town driving to the congested

Round Lake station astride Rte. 134.

The county's new north-south rail commuter service is serving as a renaissance for downtown Lake Villa where the new commuter station has ignited memories of the days when horse-drawn carriages met tourists transported on the Soo Line to carry them to Chain O'Lakes resorts.

Antioch officials are happy with the status of being the northern terminus of the Chicago metropolitan area's first new rail commuter line in half a century. They intend to capitalize on the designation as part of an economic development program.

So after nearly 30 years of effort, Wisconsin Central commuter service is a reality. What new transportation worlds to conquer? Rte. 53's northward extension still is on the drawing boards. Hmmm.

Letters to the Editor

Pal gets nice job

Editor:

Lake Villa Township Trustees Joe Hamm, Carolyn Siebert and Michelle Wolf have created a $500 per week job for the Sure Party supervisor candidate, Karen Sullivan. The voters elected qualified trustee? I think not!

No budget has been passed, no job description is available, no established working hours have been created, no advertisement or notice has ever been posted for this new job. We just give it to our pal, Karen. Don't forget benefits—insurance, vacations, retirement, etc.

All this because Joe, Carolyn and Michelle don't like Supervisor Sue Hanson. This country's taxes have gotten out of control because of politicians such as these trustees.

Come out to the township budget meeting. There are two dates. The township bulletin board and the post office show 8 p.m. June 8; in the newspaper they stated 8 p.m. June 9. Maybe a phone call to one of the above trustees will get the exact date, but don't try Hamm. He is unlisted. Come on out,

Lake Villa Township residents, unless you could care less.

Anti-Semitism shows

Editor:

It was with much dismay that I read the letter about the Holocaust Museum that may be tainted with anti-Semitism.

After the museum, visit Arlington National Cemetery where Jewish soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines are resting in peace under the Star of David, on U.S. land maintained by your tax dollars.

No power on earth will make me forget the Jews in my outfit. They were soldiers, wore the same combat garb, stood at attention, saluting the Stars and Stripes and were shot at.

Men have died for the privileges we enjoy today. Don't anybody forget. I pay taxes for the privilege of living in the land of the free and the home of the brave chosen by my parents (not Jewish).

Community threatened

Editor:

I was incorrectly quoted about the Merit Club plan for office and retail. I did not take the statement by the Globe attorney that "we guarantee saving 50 percent of the trees" as a threat.

What I did perceive as a threat to the board and ultimately the community was the attorney's statement that "if we did accept Globe's petition as presented they would guarantee 50 percent of the trees, and if not, all the trees or a good portion may have to come down."

I really do not think a savings of 50 percent is something to brag about. Show me a plan with few buildings and parking lots adding to water problems and save 75 percent of the trees, and now you will learn my respect and praise.

I, and some of the other commissioners, were uneasy about approving plans that may or may not be implemented for up to 15 years. The annexation agreement that allowed Merit Club (Globe), the extended time limit for development, did not allow us much choice. The safeguards are that when development does begin, Globe will be to come back to the Plan Commission with their final plans and have them approved through the hearing process.

Sears promo ludicrous

Editor:

The Sears marketing and advertising schemes will not be accepted.

A $5 coupon and promotion which I found in my mail box today was disgusting. The company was not even able to put Vernon Hills on the map, because of its distance from Fox Lake!

Sears is mistaken if they think that I will transfer my purchasing to the "NW Corner of Hwy. 21 and Hwy 60." After closing of the Fox Lake store, my opinion of Sears has decreased to the point of questioning whether or not I will ever again purchase anything from it. The attempted ploy to create a transfer to another Sears "that feels like home" and which "reaffirms commitment" is not acceptable.

The Fox Lake Sears store adequately served me as a Fox Lake/Ingleside resident for 21 years. I had made many purchases there and become very familiar with that store during those years. To think that Sears would attempt to transfer our purchasing dollars to the Vernon Hills store with a $5 incentive is ludicrous! It would not even pay the automobile expense to drive there.

The motto, "You Can Count on Me." is laughable. Sears is wasting profits made from the Fox Lake store on ineffective advertising. Sears did count on me for 21 years, and could have continued to do so, but unfortunately I can no longer count on Sears! Enclosed is the $5 coupon.

No thought to future

Editor:

I would like to say thank you to all the officials of Grayslake and surrounding areas who, for the past four plus years have worked so diligently, in an effort to increase the tax bases, and welcomed any and all developers with open arms without forethought as to the impact on schools, roads, and general day-to-day doing business.

Didn't anyone, anywhere, anytime, give thought to the fact that if developers were allowed to develop, the result would be chaos on the already obsolete roads? Did anyone, anywhere, anytime exert any diligence, as to the necessity of widening the roads, such as Rte. 120, Rte. 83/137, Harris Rd., Rte. 45, etc. Before the developing began? And now...now...Winchester, Atkinson, Allegheny and other arteries are closed for construction!!! Who, in their right mind closes the alternate routes. All at the same time? It now takes longer to drive from Grayslake to Libertyville, to Lincolnshire, to Lake Forest, to Vernon Hills, to anywhere considered local, than it does to drive from Grayslake to Northbrook! From Grayslake to Alsip, Illinois (65 miles to the south) travel time one hour, five minutes! Lake Forest to Grayslake, (17 miles) travel time - 50 minutes! Got the picture?

Is anyone out there working on updating, and bringing the roads into the crowded 1990's, better yet, into the 21st century?

lightly to those who do not value its worth.

It is not a tool for getting advantages for certain groups, but a means of securing justice and equality for all.

We see on the American scene today from coast to coast many Americans of differing backgrounds and races who have made it to important public offices. They are there as individuals, carrying out their responsibilities in a commendable way. We are glad for them and proud of them. They are demonstrating that such attainments are possible under our original Voting Rights Act which does not need "remedial mechanisms" to "eliminate majority rule."

Battle over kitchen inspection fees ought to be dropped.

Lashing out for more revenue in the face of tax caps, the Lake County Health Dept. might have lashed at the wrong people. A hornets nest of opposition has erupted over the department's proposal to levy a fee for inspecting kitchens in schools and other non-profit organizations.

Apparently department moguls who concocted the revenue enhancement scheme and County Board politicians who gave the plan said to raise $150,000 a year the greenlight, haven't heard that the schools are having revenue problems of their own.

School response was notable for a revenue enhancement of their own from educators in Waukegan and Libertyville

High School who announced that they are considering plans to charge the county for using schools for polling places. Touche!

With election machinery introduced, County Clerk Linda Hess has been drawn into the fray. Wait a minute, folks, cried Hess, who added up possible polling place rental costs and came up about $80,000 short in her budget for elections. Hess, with no little self interest, has volunteered to mediate differences between the schools and the health department.

As an experienced and responsible public official, Hess can be counted upon to remind the warring factions that both sides are serving the same boss, John Q. Citizen, and that taking money out of one of John's pockets to stick in another doesn't make much sense. So the kitchen fee vs. poll rental battle could well be dropped. A better question is what to do about all the hands that already are in John's pockets?

Gambling with schools

Edgar gets Daley's attention about school funding problems with riverboat gambling proposition.

Much as the prospect of another gambling scheme to fund Illinois public schools is to be deplored, Gov. Jim Edgar may be on the right track by linking approval of riverboat gambling for Chicago with a requirement that some of the tax revenue be spent on city schools.

That places a major part of the Illinois school funding problem squarely where it belongs—in Chicago.

Because he lacks the political courage to stand up to the monolithic Chicago Teacher's Union, Mayor Richard Daley is loathe to share city gambling tax with the Chicago Public Schools.

Despite intense Democratic and big city media pressure for the General Assembly to "fulfill Constitutional requirements" for public school funding, suburban Republicans and downstate legislators know that any release of new school moneys will be sucked into the "black hole" of education in Chicago. Our community and the rest of the state suffers due to lack of Chicago school reform and concessions from the Chicago Teacher's Union.

The emergency aid voted North Chicago schools, we believe, is an indication that legislators can do what's right and necessary for public education in Illinois when they aren't encumbered by Chicago politics. In a convoluted sort of way, the Chicago casino gambling greenlight can be "what's right" if the proper strings are attached.

Daley is a high profile example of what happens when local officialdom takes a stand-offish attitude about school spending. That's how unaffordable teachers' contracts are exacted from defenseless board of education members who stand unsupported before the onslaught of professional union organizers and high-priced attorneys who are demanding more and more.

Edgar is putting Daley's feet to the fire. Good for him. Instead of joining the chorus bleating for the General Assembly "to do more for education," elected officials at all levels ought to take a closer look at local school spending. Maybe you don't like the way Edgar is doing it, but it's hard to deny that he has a mayor thinking seriously about school funding.

Majority rule threatened by society's tinkerers

by VIRGINIA PARK
Lakeland Newspapers

Last week we wrote about Lani Guinier, President Clinton's nominee to head the Civil Rights Division of the Justice Dept. There is more...

In March 1991 she wrote a 77 page brief in the Michigan Law Review in which she said, "In a system shaped by irrational, majority prejudice, justice may have to be found in 'remedial mechanisms that eliminate pure majority rule.'"

That's pretty frightening stuff—at least to me. My background and education have led me to believe that the heart and soul of democracy is majority rule with "one-man, one vote". What could be more fair?

The crux of the whole matter is the term "minorities" which has racial and ethnic overtones. In America we should have only Americans.

If people are to become American citizens, they should wear their national origin or race simply as an ornament of their culture, and bring to their citizenship the same weight as any other beneficiary of our American system of government.

I already have sincere reservations about the authenticity of many voters today. With the "motor-voter" law just approved, the actual registration process may be fraught with even more possibilities of fraud.

Will they be sworn in by a legislative officer with the proper authority as at the courthouse, or subsidiary thereof, which was the procedure when I became an election judge about forty years ago? Or will many illegal aliens who have never become citizens in the proper manner be pulling their weight at the ballot box just because they're here, accepting our largess and thinking they have a right to vote. A resident is not the same as a citizen, which fact seems to be overlooked.

Mid-county commuter line catching on: '96 report

by BILL SCHROEDER
Fast forward to 1996.

Rail commuting is beginning on the new mid-county system on the Wisconsin Central, providing some of Lake County's fastest growing communities with a new transportation dimension to O'Hare Airport and downtown Chicago.

Metra is running 14 trains daily—seven each way—with rush hour and intermediate service between north Cook County and Antioch. Where convenient, veteran rail commuters are switching from the NorthWestern line and the Fox Lake spur. There is demonstrated evidence that drivers are leaving their cars at the string of attractive, modern commuter stations at Buffalo Grove, Vernon Hills, Mundelein, Libertyville-Grayslake, Round Lake Beach, Lake Villa and Antioch.

Gov. Jim Edgar is using the new commuter service as a showpiece in his campaign for a second term. Martin Buehler, veteran director of the Lake County Div. of Transportation, hails the line as a example of forward thinking in the late 80's and early 90's. County Board Chairman Robert Depke, invincible as the county's top governmental and political leader, says the new service will provide a magnet for continued economic development and new jobs without putting more pressure on the county's antiquated highway system.

Village officials along the Wisconsin Central are congratulating each other that the new service, while a long time coming, is well worth the wait because it enhances the quality of life and reduces taxes.

Initial reaction of new riders is positive. They feel the county's central rail line is cutting their commuting time. Lake County residents everywhere are looking forward to the O'Hare link and connection with the three-year-old people mover service. Urbanologists are extolling the new line because it also is being used, as they predicted, heavily by residents of closer-in suburbs commuting to jobs in Vernon area office parks, the Motorola plant on Rte. 45 and some of the new industries that have sprung up in Grayslake, the Lake Villa-Lindenhurst area and Antioch.

South county commuters like the spacious parking area west of Wheeling's fabulously successful water park. Buffalo Grove residents are extolling the virtues of boarding at their own station or driving to Wheeling.

Old habits die slowly so many Lincolnshire commuters still are driving to Deerfield to catch NorthWestern trains. Dense woods surrounding Indian Creek remain as a notable "nature break" between industry on both sides of the line south of Vernon Hills and the maturing subdivisions on either side of the tracks north of Mundelein.

Grayslake and Libertyville officials finally have resigned themselves to the fact that they can share the Prairie Crossing station off Rtes. 21 and 83. And both can "share" the inarguable eyesore of the county's major landfill that protrudes into the suburban sky nearby.

A growing number of residents in Round Lake Beach, central Lake County's population center, now realize their foresight in purchasing new homes back in 1993 near the Mallard Creek station off Rollins Rd., eliminating the hassle of cross-town driving to the congested

Round Lake station astride Rte. 134.

The county's new north-south rail commuter service is serving as a renaissance for downtown Lake Villa where the new commuter station has ignited memories of the days when horse-drawn carriages met tourists transported on the Soo Line to carry them to Chain O'Lakes resorts.

Antioch officials are happy with the status of being the northern terminus of the Chicago metropolitan area's first new rail commuter line in half a century. They intend to capitalize on the designation as part of an economic development program.

So after nearly 30 years of effort, Wisconsin Central commuter service is a reality. What new transportation worlds to conquer? Rte. 53's northward extension still is on the drawing boards. Hmmm.

Pal gets nice job

Editor:

Lake Villa Township Trustees Joe Hamm, Carolyn Siebert and Michelle Wolf have created a $500 per week job for the Sure Party supervisor candidate, Karen Sullivan. The voters elected qualified trustee? I think not!

No budget has been passed, no job description is available, no established working hours have been created, no advertisement or notice has ever been posted for this new job. We just give it to our pal, Karen. Don't forget benefits—insurance, vacations, retirement, etc.

All this because Joe, Carolyn and Michelle don't like Supervisor Sue Hanson. This country's taxes have gotten out of control because of politicians such as these trustees.

Come out to the township budget meeting. There are two dates. The township bulletin board and the post office show 8 p.m. June 8; in the newspaper they stated 8 p.m. June 9. Maybe a phone call to one of the above trustees will get the exact date, but don't try Hamm. He is unlisted. Come on out,

Lake Villa Township residents, unless you could care less.

Anti-Semitism shows

Editor:

It was with much dismay that I read the letter about the Holocaust Museum that may be tainted with anti-Semitism.

After the museum, visit Arlington National Cemetery where Jewish soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines are resting in peace under the Star of David, on U.S. land maintained by your tax dollars.

No power on earth will make me forget the Jews in my outfit. They were soldiers, wore the same combat garb, stood at attention, saluting the Stars and Stripes and were shot at.

Men have died for the privileges we enjoy today. Don't anybody forget. I pay taxes for the privilege of living in the land of the free and the home of the brave chosen by my parents (not Jewish).

Community threatened

Editor:

I was incorrectly quoted about the Merit Club plan for office and retail. I did not take the statement by the Globe attorney that "we guarantee saving 50 percent of the trees" as a threat.

What I did perceive as a threat to the board and ultimately the community was the attorney's statement that "if we did accept Globe's petition as presented they would guarantee 50 percent of the trees, and if not, all the trees or a good portion may have to come down."

I really do not think a savings of 50 percent is something to brag about. Show me a plan with few buildings and parking lots adding to water problems and save 75 percent of the trees, and now you will learn my respect and praise.

I, and some of the other commissioners, were uneasy about approving plans that may or may not be implemented for up to 15 years. The annexation agreement that allowed Merit Club (Globe), the extended time limit for development, did not allow us much choice. The safeguards are that when development does begin, Globe will be to come back to the Plan Commission with their final plans and have them approved through the hearing process.

Sears promo ludicrous

Editor:

The Sears marketing and advertising schemes will not be accepted.

A $5 coupon and promotion which I found in my mail box today was disgusting. The company was not even able to put Vernon Hills on the map, because of its distance from Fox Lake!

Sears is mistaken if they think that I will transfer my purchasing to the "NW Corner of Hwy. 21 and Hwy 60." After closing of the Fox Lake store, my opinion of Sears has decreased to the point of questioning whether or not I will ever again purchase anything from it. The attempted ploy to create a transfer to another Sears "that feels like home" and which "reaffirms commitment" is not acceptable.

The Fox Lake Sears store adequately served me as a Fox Lake/Ingleside resident for 21 years. I had made many purchases there and become very familiar with that store during those years. To think that Sears would attempt to transfer our purchasing dollars to the Vernon Hills store with a $5 incentive is ludicrous! It would not even pay the automobile expense to drive there.

The motto, "You Can Count on Me," is laughable. Sears is wasting profits made from the Fox Lake store on ineffective advertising. Sears did count on me for 21 years, and could have continued to do so, but unfortunately I can no longer count on Sears! Enclosed is the $5 coupon.

Premier to reduce Baxter business

DEERFIELD—Baxter International Inc. could lose up to $50 million in hospital business this year as Premier Hospitals Alliance, a 150 hospital affiliation based in Westchester, Ill., said it plans to scrutinize each contract that expires with Baxter over the coming year in protest of Baxter's ethics and business practices. Premier, which purchases more than $250 million a year in medical and surgical supplies from Baxter, plans to conduct business with Baxter on a "contract to contract" basis, pending their assessment of Baxter's progress. Baxter officials plead guilty to federal felony charges that Baxter supplied extensive information to Arab boycott authorities about Baxter's business in Israel.

Blue Cross merges with other plans

GRAYSLAKE—Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans in Illinois will merge with similar plans in Iowa and South Dakota to form a new Midwest health-insurance conglomerate that will cover 3.6 million people and could foreshadow the future of health care under President Bill Clinton. A number of Lake County companies and municipal bodies offer Blue Cross-Blue Shield to their employees.

Lawrence garners top honor from Realtors group

When Steve Lawrence was attending classes at Illinois State University, he was pursuing and earned a bachelor of science in education.

"I wanted instant gratification, though. In this business, you can get that. You either make the sale or not," Lawrence said.

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The switch from education to being a real estate agent was made eight years ago. Today, Lawrence is manager of Poe & Poe in Waukegan and has reached the top of his profession as he was named Realtor of the Year by the Lake County Assn. of Realtors.

"I have a lot of respect for teachers. There is a great feeling, though, when you see someone two to five years later at a grocery store who says, 'thank you for finding our house. We love it,'" Lawrence said.

Lawrence is chairman of the education committee of the Realtors group, and serves on the associates committee as a liaison.

"The education committee works to make sure the members are better prepared with more knowledge to meet the needs of customers," Lawrence said.

The Realtor has seen quite a few changes in how the real estate agents are regulated since joining Murrie-Behm Real Estate in Grayslake eight years ago. That firm was purchased by Poe & Poe in 1986.

"When I first started, it was here is your desk and phone, get to work," he said. Realtors not only have to know the business of selling but the legalities as well.

"It is referrals and personal service that keep you in business," Lawrence said.

Those do not come right away.

"The first year is a learning process and the second year you actually begin to make money. Anyone who has been in the business for five years or so should know what his or her income will be," Lawrence said.

The real estate business continues to boom with the growth of Lake County.

"We're busy, but there should be people lining up outside the door of every real estate office. The interest rate is eight percent and the adjustable rate is 6.5 percent," Lawrence said. "Maybe it is the lack of confidence in their jobs."

In fact, the latest consumer confidence study did show a dip from March.

In addition to his activities with the Realtors group, Lawrence is vice president of the Grayslake Area Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

"I love it. Just the people you meet working for a common goal and the caliber of people in the Chamber is amazing," Lawrence said.

His association with the Chamber began at the group's annual golf outing. Before he knew it, he was sitting on the board of directors.

"It is always nice to give something back to the community," he said.

Lawrence was born in a home in Grayslake where his grandmother still lives. "I can remember when the town was 2,000 people and everyone knew you. I can't imagine living anywhere else but Grayslake," he said.

While he executes deals in all parts of the county, Grayslake continues to be a reliable source of business. "I have sold homes from Kenosha to Spring Grove," Lawrence said.

Steve Lawrence

The building boom has hit the border towns in Wisconsin and while the homes were originally cheaper than in Lake County, they are going up. "And in Wisconsin, there is a higher tax rate," Lawrence said.

Poe & Pope, is in fact, looking to open offices in Wisconsin and west in McHenry County. The real estate firm has offices in Gurnee, Waukegan and Antioch. Lawrence has his future goals set.

"I'd like to someday own my own company," he said.

Two area nurses selected for two-week Russia tour

Two staff members at Midwestern Regional Medical Center, in Zion, are spending two weeks in Russia working in hospitals, presenting lectures and learning about the country's people and cultures.

Kathy Scott, director of oncology intake, and Julie Kalter, caremap manager, joined eight other nurses from Illinois and Wisconsin on the Russian-U.S. Nursing Consortium-sponsored trip.

Scott and Kalter will reside with the families of two nurses from Moscow who visited Midwestern in August as part of the consortium's exchange program. The host families have planned meetings with medical and political officials and tours to other parts of the country, including a visit to St. Petersburg.

"I am so excited about this opportunity that I find it hard to sleep at night," said Kalter the day before her departure on May 13.

Several mementos from Midwestern—T-shirts, coffee cups, first aid kits—have been packed in the women's suitcases and will be given to their host families, government officials and hospital workers.

"We are so pleased that everyone at Midwestern has supported us and has allowed us to take this once-in-a-lifetime trip," said Scott. "Julie and I are pleased to have this opportunity to represent our country, our hospital and our nurses."

Student loan defaulters lose 1992 federal tax refunds

Illinois student loan defaulters are continuing to lose their federal tax refunds through the cooperative efforts of three agencies.

The Illinois Student Assistance Commission, the U.S. Department of Education and the Internal Revenue Service have teamed up for the eighth consecutive year. As of May 7, 1993, this successful program has withheld $11 million in 1992 federal tax refunds from 13,161 individuals.

ISAC has worked closely with the two federal agencies to collect defaulted student loans through the offset of federal tax refunds. Borrowers not paying on their defaulted student loans were notified last fall that their refunds would be withheld unless satisfactory repayment arrangements were made with ISAC. Loans not being paid were assigned to the U.S. Department of Education for certification to the Internal Revenue Service for offset.

In 1992, ISAC mailed notices to 76,153 borrowers notifying them of the possibility that their 1992 tax refunds would be withheld. Of those, 63,050 were certified for offset. "ISAC is committed to pursuing defaulted student loan borrowers. This successful program is just one example of that commitment," said ISAC spokesperson Bob Clement. Total offsets of Illinois' defaulted borrowers since the inception of the tax offset program total $68.3 million.

While many defaulters are willing to, and do, repay their student loans, "the offset program has gained the attention of those borrowers who have ignored past efforts of ISAC's collections staff," commented Art Bilski, ISAC's Director of Claims and Collections. Borrowers who need assistance in repaying their loans or want to establish a satisfactory repayment arrangement should contact an account representative at 1-800-WEHELP2 (1-800-934-3572), Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Two model homes at Stonebrook featured in 1993 Tour of Homes

Two model homes at Stonebrook, a popular golf course community in Gurnee, will be featured as entries in the 1993 Lake County Tour of Homes to be held from June 19 to 27.

Stonebrook, which is being developed by Gurnee-based Westfield Homes, includes 240 single-family homes, 154 townhouses and 68 condominiums. The single-family Hampton and the Eaton townhome will be highlighted in this year's Tour of Homes.

The Lake County Tour of Homes is an annual event sponsored by the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County to spotlight some of the outstanding home values available throughout the area. Westfield Homes, a major residential development company in the Lake County area for more than 12 years, is a regular participant in the Tour of Homes.

According to Robert Siuda, senior vice president of Westfield Homes, the Lake County Tour of Homes provides an excellent opportunity for prospective home buyers to become better acquainted with Stonebrook and other communities on the tour.

"Stonebrook combines family-oriented homes at attainable prices in a scenic, convenient location," said Siuda. "The Lake County Tour of Homes enables visitors to appreciate the excellent quality of life Stonebrook and Lake County have to offer."

The 200-acre community will have a total of 462 homes with an 18-hole golf course as a focal point. The course is scheduled to open in 1994 and will be owned and operated by the Village of Gurnee.

Flood insurance needed for flood damage claims

The Illinois Dept. of Insurance, in cooperation with the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), is warning Illinois residents not to depend on their homeowners insurance policies to cover flood damage claims.

"Unfortunately, many individuals and businesses mistakenly rely on their property policies to insure them against flood losses and do not realize until it is too late that most types of water damage are not included," said Insurance Director Stephen F. Selcke.

Flood insurance is available in communities that participate in the federal government's National Flood Insurance Program and can be purchased through any licensed property/casualty insurance agent. Many private insurers also write flood insurance under arrangements with the Federal Insurance Administrator.

A flood insurance policy covers only the dwelling or building, although additional coverage can be purchased for contents as well. Each type of coverage carries a separate deductible even if the structure and contents are both damaged in the same flood. Premiums vary depending on the location and risk exposure of the property. According to FEMA, annual premiums for property in a special flood hazard area average about $300 for $85,000 worth of coverage.

Selcke said that although flood insurance is not cheap, anyone whose property is at risk for flood damage should carefully weight the cost of the insurance against the potential financial loss. Noting that there is normally a five-day waiting period before the coverage takes effect, "it's a decision that shouldn't be postponed until the flood waters are at one's door," he said.

June real estate license classes

The Century 21 Real Estate Academy has announced that five-week, pre-license salesperson courses beginning in June have been scheduled at various locations throughout the greater Chicago area.

Roger Peake, regional director of Century 21 North Central, Inc.'s Metropolitan region, said classes are scheduled to begin on the following dates: June 14, Mondays and Wednesday, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Schaumburg Doubletree Hotel, 800 National; June 21, Mondays and Wednesdays, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., at the Holiday Inn Northbrook, 2855 Milwaukee; June 22, Tuesdays and Thursdays, from 7 to 10 p.m. at the Gurnee Holiday Inn, 6161 W. Grand.

Successful completion of the salesperson course will prepare students for the state exam, which is offered almost daily at various locations in the Chicago area. Home study is also available. All-day reviews, designed to help students with the state exam, are scheduled twice each month.

The Century 21 Real Estate Academy offers continuing education courses at 11 convenient locations. Information on any of the courses can be obtained by calling 296-0410. Pre-registration is required for all classes.

The database allows patrons to search more than three years of issues of over 700 business, management and trade publications. Directory information and the full text of newswire releases for over 100,000 private and public companies are also included.

Abstracts and the full text of reports and forecasts on over 11,000 U.S. and foreign companies, prepared by leading investment banks and brokerage firms, are available through Investext, all integrated into the General BusinessFile.

Patrons simply sit at the computer terminal, type in the subject they wish to search and press a button to see a listing of articles on the subject, directory information and company and industry reports. In addition, the InfoTrac program will suggest other related topics that the user may wish to view.

The new reference system is always up-to-date because a new database with indexing of the latest issues is delivered monthly. The database is recorded by laser on compact disc, which is similar to those used for audio recordings.

Chicago Title and Trust Company elects MacKimm as director

Margaret P. MacKimm

Margaret P. MacKimm has been elected to the combined Board of Directors of Chicago Title and Trust Company and Chicago Title Insurance Company.

MacKimm's professional career includes 17 years with Kraft, Inc. and Kraft General Foods, Inc. from which she retired in 1989 after serving as senior vice president, communications. She currently serves as a director of Woolworth Corporation and E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Company.

MacKimm is also widely active as a community leader. She is perhaps best known for her contributions as an executive committee member of the Chicago Community Trust, where she chairs the Health and Education Committee. She is a director of the World Press Institute and of the Chicago North Shore Senior Center; and a member of the 4-H National Advisory Committee after having served as National 4-H Council Trustee for 13 years.

MacKimm is a member of both the Commercial Club of Chicago and the Economic Club of Chicago. She received a BA degree in English from the College of William and Mary.

Good Cops

Not all cops are bad. I would guess 99.9% of police are good. My car broke down and a Lake County Sheriff helped push my car, single handedly. Thank you, whoever you were in car 627.

A Big Thanks

Thank you Bob Hendrickson for your wonderful pictures of Calvary Christian School. Also, a thanks to all the area businesses that helped out.

Pagan Holiday

I find it very upsetting that prayer is not allowed in the schools but teachers celebrate Earth Day. Earth Day is a pagan ritual promulgated by environmental wackos, the media, and ungodly pagans. It has been proven by Rush Limbaugh that there is no ozone hole or environmental problems.

Home Junk Home

I am from unincorporated Prairie View. I too want to know why the planning and zoning board is allowing all of this horrible development. It looks like a junkyard. There are buses jacked up on cinder blocks and used as storage sheds. It looks terrible.

Half-baked

To "Go Bake A Cake", that trustee has done more for Lindenhurst than anyone ever before. The person who called this in should go bake a cake yourself!

Fish Story

I am from Fox Lake and there is something fishy going on here. The current mayor's best friend is allowing a trailer with advertisements to be on his property on Route 12. This, to me, is very fishy. I would like the trailer removed because no other business in town is allowed to advertise like this.

Thank You

Big thanks to the Grayslake Lions for the gazebo they put up in the park in Grayslake. Great work.

More Sirens

I think Antioch should discontinue the use of all sirens. It appears that residents do not know the difference between the fire, rescue, and tornado sirens.

Confused Motives

Despite what he said in the Tribune, Mr. B's real intention was to shut down the iceless hockey program. Listen, you confuse the desire to play with the ability to play. If parents cannot understand your motives, how can you expect children to? You are exposing your Down's syndrome child to a lot of pain. As a parent, you should be ashamed.

Blood Sport

This is to all the people who did not vote "yes" to the Antioch High School. Maybe you have children who are not in high school or just about to graduate. Remember your vote when you are senior citizens and the kids deprived of any extra-curricular activity use you as the extra-curricular activity. Think about it.

Above The Law

I just found out that a certain person is still dumping grease down the village sewer. Even worse, he is blaming it on another restaurant. Come on, you have been red tagged. Do you think you are above the law? Come on Round Lake Heights, let the chicken man go.

Wife Woes

What would you do if you had an ex-wife who drives by your house on a daily basis? She also harasses my new wife. Does anyone have any suggestions? Please call in. And, keep it legal.

Motel Hell

The Avon Motel looks like motel hell. Get rid of it. It is an eyesore. It is the first thing you see when you enter Hainesville.

Dog Gone

Apparently there are ignorant people who live all through Lake County. I live in Fox Lake and have the same problem with barking dogs. I just paid $130,000 for a house in a supposedly quiet subdivision. However, I get to listen to barking dogs from dawn to 10:30 p.m.

Whatever Happened

I am from Lake Zurich and want to know what happened to ex-mayor Kay? And, what is the deal with the license plates?

That's Who

To the person who writes asking about Robocop in Antioch High School. He is a rent-a-cop who is affectionately called Robocop because he is an ex-Chicago policeman. He is a very nice man who lives in Antioch Township. We love him. I am an Antioch student.

Define Murder

Hey "Examine Yourself", how can you murder something that is not breathing? I'd love to hear how! Please define murder for me.

Won't Pay

HBO recently had a program indicating that teens should not need to get parental permission to have abortions. It was called "Lifestyles, Families in Crisis". I canceled my subscription to HBO. I will not pay to promote abortion.

Please Mow

Will the person who was an unsuccessful candidate for Town Supervisor and bragged about buying property in Felter's Subdivision please come and cut down your tall weeds and grass?

Rained Out

I just want to thank US Cable for their great service. Last week my wife and I were trying to watch TV and the cable went out again. Every time it rains, the cable (Continued on page 20)

Iceless Problem

I want to applaud all the parents in the Antioch iceless hockey league. This was our first year with the program and we think it is great. I was disappointed to learn that one set of parents could jeopardize the entire program.

Editors Note: We have received numerous calls about the iceless hockey situation. We would love to print all of them, but unfortunately, the calls are extremely lengthy. Please keep your comments short, concise, and to the point. Otherwise, please consider sending in a letter to the editor.

Thanks Lions

I think we owe the Grayslake Lions Club a big thanks for the gazebo.

Bad Temporary Neighbors

I am from Antioch and would like to scream. All of you summer people, who come up here and think you are in some open field somewhere can just go to hell. All holiday weekend long I was woken up by car alarms, fire crackers, whooping, hollering, and very loud boats. You are not alone here!

Stroke Of Luck

I am calling about an article about how Murphy School has had no accidents in 21 years. I think it is fantastic that this is true. However, I also think it has only been a stroke of luck. I drop my kids off there everyday and I have never seen such gross negligence in my life. Crossing guards are laughing and shoving. I think they do a poor job.

White All Right

I am white and want to know why anyone would come down to North Chicago to clean it up for you? Do it yourself.

Sinner

The person who put their 11 year old on the phone to talk about abortion committed a sin. Do you realize you are using your own child to promote your beliefs? You are teaching your child bigotry and prejudice. That, my friend, is the real sin.

Official No Show

I think it is pretty sad to have a Miss Fox Lake contest and have no village officials attend. Our community should work together. It was sad for the community and for the girls in attendance.

Let's Be Bums

Hey "Kicked Out", when are you going to realize how much we can profit from the riverboat casino? We are all going to end up bums because there are no jobs or money in this town. Shut up, deadbeats.

Hop A Horse

Our officials are not bums. You may have money but I don't. If it was up to the ARC, we would still be riding horseback.

No Ticket

I wrote "Unwritten Code" not "Shift Party" and I do not believe what "Shift Party" said. But, I do believe in what I said about cops having an unwritten code. And, guess what, I have never gotten a ticket!

Saved The Bacon

I am calling from Antioch and feel that the Rescue Squad siren is part of Antioch. My family operated a hotel across the street for over 30 years and no one complained. People should realize that the rescue squad saves a lot of people's bacon.

Friend Of Cat

I am a neighbor of the owners of Wally the cat. I am sick and tired of people saying they are horrible people. They are wonderful neighbors who take care of all the cats that wander into their yard. If you people had your pets fixed, there would not be so many strays in the first place. And, how long do you think it takes to fire three shots at a moving cat? The soap opera remark was just cruel.

Take A Vocation

Let's make educators sacrifice. They need to dig into their pockets to educate other people's children. Cut their salaries. Make them work longer hours. Force them to give up retirement benefits and insurance coverage. Heck, it is their vocation.

Floating Tax Break

I am a homeowner in Antioch Township, west of the village. The people opposed to the casino are off base. The only way we are going to clean up the Chain, get a tax break, or create jobs is through the riverboat. I hate change too, but I can't take my taxes anymore.

The Wally Saga Continues

Don't blame the cat! Cats do not harm people. They are very independent and do their own thing. Wally or any other cat did not deserve the injury he received! There are cowardly people out there who love to hurt animals. You, my dear "Get A Leash" sound like one of them.

Work Nearby

Don't attack Jim Fields because his daughter wants to work on the riverboat. I also will be working on that riverboat, if they hire me. I would love to work near to where I live for a change. Wouldn't you?

Health of indoor plants signals air safety level

Indoor plants keep healthy and active with waterings that include multiple vitamins and hormones have been found to continue normal processes that include destroying air pollutants in "tight buildings."

This interior pollution has been charged by the U. S. Environmental Protection Administration with 26,000 annual cancer deaths and millions of cases of other illnesses.

When the plants' own health is protected by the vitamins-hormones supplement, their visible activity signals that they are not being overcome by the harmful vapors emanating from structures and furnishings. Instead, they are winning over them, clearing them away for a safer indoor environment.

Although experts have used this inexpensive, easy and non-toxic formula, called SUPERthrive™, for over fifty years, to keep indoor and other plants healthy, it has only become important for the health of humans since the proliferation of closed-windowed buildings and energy-tight residences.

Clinical ecologists have found that the primary damaging substances in this "tight-building syndrome" are benzene, formaldehyde and trichloroethylene. The higher the buildings' content of newly-made parts, partitions, decorating materials or furnishings, the higher the likelihood of reacting sicknesses, it is reported.

Researchers have discovered that actively growing plants can do away with toxic gases. They do this through the leaves, the roots, and even via the beneficial micro-organisms in the soil.

Horticultural scientists say that enough help may be provided by as few as two typical good-sized foot and-a-half-high healthy-growing plants per ten feet by ten feet square space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, NASA, has been in particular need of overcoming these problems. Therefore, they joined with the Associated Landscape Contractors of America in sponsoring a study by Dr. B.C. Wolverton, which established, through closed-chamber experiments, the effectiveness of actively growing plants in relieving the air of the pollutants.

However, a host of additional problems appeared when real use of the rooms by humans occurred, and emphasized the need to protect the plants themselves with the normalizing vitamins-hormones nutritional support, to keep them working for their human "friends."

It turned out that two main classes of problems introduced by people's presence put many more stresses upon the air and plants. First, without natural ventilation, people make their own contributions to atmospheric impurity. Their clothing, packaging materials and their other manufactured articles do, too.

Further, interiorscapers observe many other stresses upon plants in peopled places. These commonly include: People knocking off branches; demanding that plants be placed in front of air conditioners or heaters or in too much sunlight or too-dark locations; or they extra-water or over-fertilize plants.

Over-fertilization is identified by University of Florida foliage plant experts as being the main killer.

Without the SUPERthrive support, plants often start to die immediately under such stresses, failing to metabolize out the pollutants, and finally may need replacement as early as three months later.

But the largest chains of buildings and of indoor plant maintainers say the SUPERthrive use overcomes all these problems, keeping their plants healthy "until they grow out of the buildings."

It is understood that this provides an invaluable signal of progress toward achieving superior air safety.

This 50 vitamins-hormones formula is completely unlike any other, although it is said to be common for simple and ineffective substitutes to be offered, claiming to be "like" it.

It was used by every major motion picture studio as far back as 1940, to overcome their stresses. SUPERthrive works by providing ready-made carbon-hydrogen-oxygen substances that the plants need to make.

Certified non-toxic, SUPERthrive has been used in bulk sizes, by thousands of government and university experts for over a half century. It is the creation of internationally-recognized biochemist Dr. John A. Thomson, who still makes it.

For more information, send a stamped, self-addressed business-size envelope to Vitamin Institute, Dept IP Box 230, North Hollywood, CA 91603.

Grasscycling returns valuable nutrients to Mother Earth

Is it okay to distribute grass clippings on the lawn? What are the benefits or drawbacks? Lake County lawn experts claim grass clippings are 85 percent water, so they deteriorate quickly and don't add to a thatch build-up. About 20 percent of the nitrogen is returned to the soil. It's been estimated that a season's worth of grass clippings is equal to one application of a commercial fertilizer.

One key to trouble-free "grasscycling," an industry term meaning recycling grass clippings, is short clips. The one-third rule is to cut only one-third of the grass blade at each mowing.

Some people prefer to collect clippings occasionally for a compost pile in order to create enriched earth for gardening and landscaping projects. And it's always a good idea to remove tree leaves regularly in fall to help the grass store food and prepare for winter. Chopped leaves can be used as mulch around landscape plantings or in a composter.

Container gardening offers myriad of planting possibilities

You don't need a yard to have a garden to be proud of. Container gardening offers a myriad of planting possibilities for the patio, deck, balcony, window box, roof top—you name it. And even if you do have a yard, don't limit your gardening to ground level. Take it from the experts at the Professional Plant Growers Association, whose members provide gardeners with potted and bedding plants: Plants can go anywhere that soil, water, light and imagination can go.

Flowers are blooming in everything from the traditional clay pot to elegant, handmade containers, wheel barrows, cast iron kettles and wooden wine casks cut in half. Barrel containers can be half buried on their sides with soil mounded inside so it looks as if the flowers are "spilling" out. Decks can be built with window-box railings or cubicles to cover large pots. Use your imagination to plant what you find—an old stone barbecue grill cooking with coleus, an abandoned sand box with castles of celosia, an outgrown swing set swinging with hanging geraniums—Transform a "white elephant" in your yard into a blooming focal point.

Containers not only let you enjoy plants in non-yard locations, they also give you the flexibility to move and change. If you leave plants in their original pots and just set them inside their decorative containers, they can be easily replaced with fresh substitutes. If you fill the planter with decorative mulch to cover the pot rims, your plants look as if they were planted directly into the container. You can use this mobile method to keep sun-loving plants in a shady area. Buy two sets of plants and rotate them every week or two, so they get enough sun to thrive. You can also rotate plants just for the fun of it. For seasonal variety try colorful, fragrant hyacinths, crocuses, daffodils and tulips in spring, edged by bury the pots in the garden where they should bloom again at their normal spring season. Then you can unearth the pots and rotate them again.

Replace the faded bulbs with a dramatic summer annual such as geraniums. Move the pansies or violas to a centerpiece cluster on your patio table and replace them with dangling vines around the geraniums. For planters in shady areas, big pots of impatiens are an impressive sight. In the fall, the geraniums can make way for mums with their variety of colors and flower forms.

You can add another dimension to your planter by using a small, woody ornamental plant as the focal point surrounded by annuals—for example, a lush, pink azalea floating on a sea of white impatiens—or a dark, green yew encircled by red wax begonias. Ask your garden center about the hardiness of such shrubs. If they won't survive your climate's winters, they will have to be overwintered in a greenhouse. Did you know that many commercial ranges now rent out space?

Let your imagination run wild with planter possibilities—but don't forget the practical considerations. Containers have special water needs due to their limited size. First, they dry out more quickly than garden beds. This is particularly true of porous, clay pots, hanging baskets, plants in full sun and small containers. Check watering needs daily.

Second, containers require drainage to prevent waterlogged roots. The best alternative is holes in the bottom of the container with a layer of burlap to keep soil from sifting through. Better than nothing is a layer of coarse gravel or broken pots at the bottom of the pot with burlap over the gravel to keep soil out so water can drain to the spaces between the stones. Another option is to place a drainage hole container inside a larger, decorative container—but make sure the inner pot is elevated so it doesn't sit in the water that has drained into the larger pot.

When choosing plants for your container, consider the following:

- Light—Most flowers are sun-lovers. If you're decorating a shady spot, try impatiens, begonias, coleus, browallia, fuchsia or torenia. Check plant care tags and buy with your location in mind—or rotate containers to a sunny spot as suggested above.

- Height—Put tall plants in the center of containers viewed from all sides, or the rear of ones viewed from one side only. Use shorter plants in the middle and low or trailing varieties at the edge.

- Distance—One-color-one-variety planters make a dramatic showing even when viewed from afar. Combination plantings of several different varieties make for up-close interest.

When planting your container, follow these tips:

- Use a soilless planting medium. Garden soil is too heavy for containers and may carry insects and disease.

- Water before planting. Mix until the soil is uniformly moist and filled to about a half-inch of the pot rim.

- Check watering needs daily. Containers dry faster than garden beds.

- Turn planters for symmetrical growth. Plants "lean" toward the light. Keep the sunny side from outgrowing the shady side by turning pots periodically.

- Fertilize lightly but frequently. Use a water soluble plant food according to label directions. Make sure it is well diluted or it may "burn" your plants.

Time to start casting about for the perfect planter for your non-yard garden spot. Your local garden center has loads of alternatives—those that are decorative on their own and others that are just the right size to fit into that wicker chair without a seat, that brass umbrella stand, that wooden apple crate—You know what it is; plant it!

In and out the windows

What are windows for? To look in—to look out—to look at...what? The neighbor's garage? Boring! You can improve your view by adding plants—inside and out: an outside window box brimming with bright blooms—with an inside windowsill garden of potted plants. This is a window well worth a second look-in or out. The Professional Plant Growers Association, whose members supply both indoor and outdoor blooming plants, offers these tips to transform your boring windows into showcases of blooming beauty with a little ingenuity and a trip to the lumber yard.

To make skinny indoor sills wide enough to hold fat plants, buy a board as long as your existing sill and wide enough to accommodate your favorite plants so the leaves don't touch the window. (This can damage plants when the panes get winter cold.) Place the board on top of the existing sill and secure it with screws.

To support this shelf, use two 1 x 2" boards, cut at a 45-degree angle at each end. Screw one end under the away-from-the-window edge of your new shelf; screw the other end into the wall. The sturdiest choice for the wall is a "butterfly" toggle bolt which has "wings" that open up inside the wall to hold it securely after it's screwed in. You may be able to find metal shelf brackets at your local hardware store that could substitute for these 1 x 2" board supports.

While you're at the hardware store, check out the pre-fab shelving systems that use metal strips with holes for support brackets. A strip on either side of your window, lets you add shelves all the way up for a totally plant-filled window.

As for the outside window box—it's just a box the width of your window—not too difficult for a handy do-it-yourselfer to manage. Be sure to include sturdy supports underneath. If you must have a specific building plan, check your local library for books that specialize in window gardens.

Plastic planter-liners, available from local garden centers, will increase the life of your window box—although you can plant directly into the box itself. You can also leave plants in their pots so you can change them easily as the season progresses. Take your plants and measurements (of both your window and the pots or liner) to your local lumber yard.

When buying wood and hardware, think weatherproof. Your dealer can help you choose woods that will last, such as cedar and redwood, or those treated for outdoor use. Ask if the wood preservatives used are toxic to plants. Using a plastic liner will reduce plants' exposure to this possible hazard.

Don't forget the all-important drainage holes. This is especially important outdoors where Mother Nature can dump in an extra supply of water when you don't really need it. Waterlogged roots make for sickly plants—rather than the blooming beauties you've planned for your window showcase.

On the other hand, make sure plants get enough water. Like all outdoor containers, window boxes can dry out quickly. Check the soil daily and when the surface feels dry, water thoroughly until the water drips out of those drainage holes. You may be able to roll up self-storing screens and water from indoors.

After your set-up is complete, comes the fun part: choosing the plants. Start by evaluating the light at your outdoor window-box site. If it's sunny most of the day, you can choose from the wide assortment of sun-loving annual flowers such as geraniums, marigolds, petunias, verbenas and zinnias. If it's sunny half the day or less, choose from such shady favorites as impatiens, begonias, coleus, lobelias, pansies and torenias. Many garden centers have plants labeled according to light requirements.

If you keep your window-box plants in their pots, you can rotate color throughout the season, moving from spring bulbs to summer annuals to autumn mums, cornflowers, pansies, snapdragons, sweet alyssum, flowering cabbage or kale. These frost-tolerant plants can thrive all winter in southern climates.

Indoors, choose from a variety of long-lasting foliage plants as a green "frame" to set off the colorful flowering plants outside. Light is a factor for your indoor garden shelf, too. Unshaded southern-facing windows are the brightest. Outdoor shade from nearby trees—or that neighbor's garage—can create low-light windows. Many foliage plants are tagged according to their light requirements. Ask at your garden center.

New tree care products help trees thrive

As tall and strong as some trees may appear, they weren't always that way. They once were young saplings struggling for survival against the elements and, in many cases, man and his many machines. In recent years, lawn and garden manufacturers have sought ways to give young trees a fighting chance to ward off insects, disease and animals, as well as the ravages of winds and drought during the spring and summer months.

Another goal has been to design products that physically protect growing trees from damage caused by lawn mowers and string trimmers. As a result, a number of new products specially created to meet these challenges are now available at local hardware stores and lawn and garden centers.

Protecting young trees

Damage from lawn mowers and string trimmers is the number one cause of young tree death. Newly-planted trees and those only a year or two old do not have a thick bark to protect them. Consequently, cuts and gashes leave them vulnerable to insects and often-fatal fungal diseases.

A simple solution to this situation is a new product called BarkGard. A plastic shield about eight inches high, BarkGard installs easily by coiling it around the tree and serves as a physical barrier between the growing tree and trimmers and mowers. The product's natural brown color reflects light away from the trunk and blends in well with developing bark. Specially-designed holes in the plastic enable the tree to "breathe."

Protecting the soil

One way to guarantee healthy tree growth is to make sure the soil around its roots is healthy. Homeowners and professional landscapers alike often create a well around a growing tree. This will ensure that the tree doesn't compete with grass or weeds for vital nutrients and water. Begin by preparing the planting area. Depending on the size of the tree, the planting site should be at least six inches deep (or the depth of the root ball if planting a new tree) and amended with absorbent builder's sand within two to five feet of the trunk. Strips of a landscape fabric, such as WeedBlock, should then be placed over the soil. Then, in a circular pattern around the edges, lay bricks down to hold the fabric in place. Cut away any excess fabric with a knife or scissors.

Finally, cover the fabric between the base of the tree and the bricks with a two- to three-inch layer of mulch, such as wood chips, stone or bark nuggets. The landscape fabric will effectively deter weeds while allowing plenty of air and water to the soil, which can then reach the tree's roots. Also, fabrics help conserve water and keep the soil cooler during the hot summer months, which will further enhance the tree's chances for survival.

Protecting tree roots

Young trees, especially newly-planted ones, can benefit from the added protection of staking. Staking helps trees establish strong roots by keeping them steady, even in strong winds, and by positioning them to grow upright. A new product called TreeStaKit is a complete staking package which includes reusable stakes, 21 feet of rope and a tree strap with eyelets that makes anchoring a tree up to three inches in diameter quick and easy. There are a number of staking methods, so be sure to ask the advice of a local garden supplier to determine the method that's best for your tree. Whatever method you use, most experts recommend a tree remained staked for two years in order to ensure it is fully anchored.

Protecting against insects and bark splitting

Insects, rodents and damage from bark splitting are three more common causes of young tree death. Simply wrapping long strips of burlap around the base of the tree will provide a protective barrier. Another option is TreeWrap, by Easy Gardener. Unlike most wraps that break down and must be replaced every few months, TreeWrap is weather-resistant and lasts at least two years, which is the recommended length of time a tree should be wrapped.

Black on the inside and gray on the outside, TreeWrap is designed to moderate the temperature around the tree trunk, thereby reducing the likelihood of bark splitting. The material, which will stretch as the tree grows, also has microscopic holes that allow the beneficial exchange of water and air with the bark's surface, while serving as a physical barrier to insects and rodents. Simply wrap it around the tree in an overlapping spiral.

These are just a few of the great many new innovations designed to give trees every opportunity to grow to their fullest potential. All of the products mentioned in this article are available at lawn and garden centers, hardware stores and chains nationwide.

Insect proofing your home the all-natural way

Think you're too neat, too clean or too rich to have bugs?

Think again. Even Felix Unger had them.

You can lock the doors and bar the windows, but that won't stop ants, fleas, cockroaches, earwigs and other crawling trespassers from making your home their home. According to the experts at Cherrifree Environment Inc., manufacturers of the Insectigone line of all-natural insect control products, the trick to keeping these unwanted visitors out of the home is to make your living quarters as inhospitable as possible.

Start by keeping food under wraps, literally. Leftovers make tasty late-night snacks for hungry family members and bugs alike, so make sure that food is stored properly in tightly-closed glass or plastic containers. Also, clean up spills and crumbs completely, and wash dishes immediately, and take out kitchen trash daily, all of which helps discourage household pests from taking up residence.

Some insects, such as cockroaches, are water guzzlers, so it's important to dry up their water supply by repairing leaky faucets, pipes and clogged drains in the bathroom and kitchen.

Let's face it, a clean home is the best defense against bugs, whose feeding frenzy does considerable damage to upholstery, curtains and wallpaper. Routinely vacuuming rugs and floors will help to minimize infestations. In addition, keeping cracks and crevices in baseboards and vents dust-free deprives insects of a warm, supportive environment in which to live and reproduce.

Home Improvement
Bugs travel vertically and horizontally, looking for food and nesting materials. Besides keeping food out of sight and emptying the trash regularly, there are several other ways to make your home uninviting to bugs:

- Remove boxes, clutter and debris from buildings and yards to prevent insects from nesting.
- Repair all holes in walls, floors and foundations.

- Seal breaks around pipes or wires.
- Fix damaged screens or doors.
- Keep garbage in metal or plastic cans with tight lids.
- Raise wood piles off the ground.

What should you do if your house is spotlessly clean and well-maintained, but you're still losing the battle of the bugs? One solution is to use chemical insecticides. But today's environmentally-concerned homeowner has a better option, a new chemical-free powder called Insectigone. There are several versions of the product, designed to attract and kill certain insects, such as ants, earwigs and roaches. Each Insectigone powder is composed of amorphous diatomaceous earth, or DE, which is simply the fossilized remains of marine plants and algae. This finely-ground substance looks and feels like talcum powder to humans, but to crawling insects its sharp, abrasive texture literally scrapes away their waxy coating, causing them to dehydrate and die within 48 hours.

Recently approved by the EPA for indoor and outdoor use, all-natural Insectigone products are packaged in recyclable bottles with a pointed nose, making it easy to disperse or "dust" the powder in cracks, crevices, kitchen cabinets and appliances, near garbage cans, around pipes and drains, window frames, attics and basements. It can also be used quite effectively outside, around foundations and entrances, door frames, as well as applied to windows and patios.

Remember, the best way to keep bugs out is to make it hard for them to get in.

Ballerina summers at Joffrey Ballet

It's a family tradition.

Yvonne Cheng is the fourth daughter in her family to study with Cheri Lindell at Dancenter North. Her parents are Tien and May Cheng of Libertyville.

Talent has its rewards. Yvonne will be spending the summer in New York City at the legendary Joffrey Ballet.

An eighth-grader at Highland School, Yvonne has been a student at Dancenter North since she was four. She has danced the leading role of Clara in "The Magic of the Nutcracker" for the past two years.

by SUZIE REED

"She's an exceptional student," said Lindell. "She gets straight A's. She plays the violin. She's a very personable young lady."

According to Lindell, Yvonne went to two auditions and was offered scholarships at both the Boston Ballet and Joffrey. She will attend classes in the trainee program at the Joffrey school and, if she's good enough, she will be selected to participate in a performance there on August 7.

This is the first year Yvonne has auditioned for a summer dancing program.

"It's the first year I wanted to spend the summer dancing rather than being with my friends," she said. "It's something I really want to do."

Yvonne will be rooming at Joffrey in a dorm with another Dancenter student, Suzannah LeMarquand of Lake Forest.

She has never been away from home for that length of time before but an older sister has been to classes at the Boston Ballet.

When asked about her love of ballet, Yvonne admitted she first began dancing because of her older sisters but found out she liked it as well.

"I like the music and the movements, the way things go together. It's really beautiful."

Yvonne plays the piano as well as the violin, and while she likes classical music as one would expect, she says, "I listen to all different kinds of music. It depends on my mood."

Although ballet is a big part of her life right now, Yvonne says of the future, "I think I'll wait and see how it goes."

Several students at Dancenter North have been selected for special programs this summer.

"It's the first year I wanted to spend the summer dancing rather than being with my friends. It's something I really want to do."

—Yvonne Cheng

Amy Brandt, a junior at Carmel High School, has received a scholarship to the Milwaukee Ballet. The session lasts from June to August. Amy is the daughter of Robert and Patricia Brandt of Libertyville.

Krista Hendrickson and Jennifer Bull have been accepted at the Virginia School of the Arts for a six-week course. Both girls are 13 years old; Krista is a student at Highland School and Jennifer goes to Hawthorn School.

Cheri Lindell began Dancenter North 19 years ago. She now has a staff of 12 teachers.

The Grand Ole Opry A Childhood Dream

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

As a child in the 50's, my first "build it yourself" project was a crystal radio. Late on Saturday nights, long after I was supposed to be sleeping, I would tune in WLS on that radio and listen to the Grand Ole Opry. (That was when WLS was known as the "Barn Dance Station.") I would dream of being at the Opry and seeing, in person, the Stars of Country whose voices I faintly heard through the earphone of my home built radio. Last Saturday that dream came true.

After closing the agency, I caught an afternoon flight to Nashville. My flight got in about 5 p.m. That gave me just enough time to check in to my hotel and head up to the Opry to catch the 6:30 p.m. show.

Seats are assigned by the date of request, either by phone or mail. I request mine about a month in advance and was lucky enough to get front row in the first balcony. Tickets cost from '11 to '15 and can be ordered by calling 615-889-3060. They will be held for you at the box office.

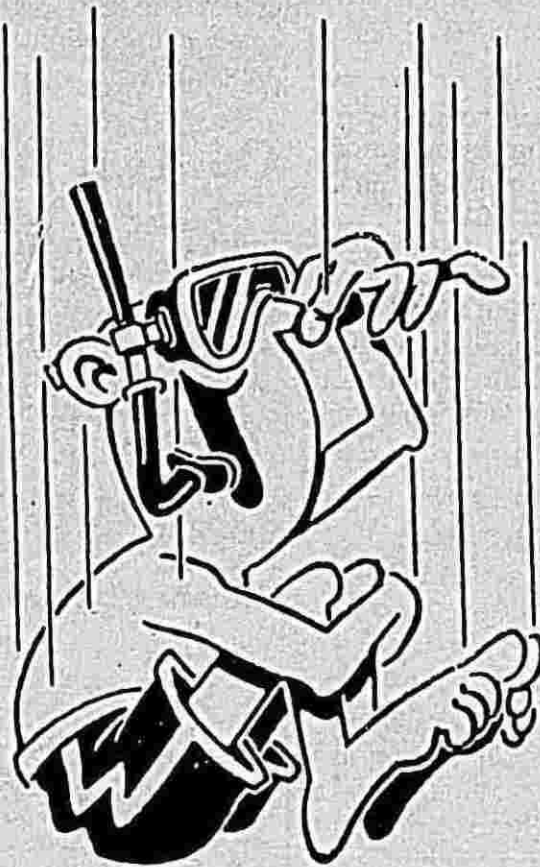

Many of the voices I heard on my crystal set in the fifties came to life for me that Saturday. The 2-1/2 hour show included Jim Ed Brown, Skeeter Davis, Porter Wagoner, Jeanne Pruett, Ray Pillow, Jerry Clower, Stonewall Jackson, The Carlises, Hank Snow and even Brother Oswald, just to name a few of the old-timers. Newer talent included the likes of Emmylou Harris and a group called the 4 Guys.

The next day I drove into town and saw the Ryman Auditorium, the original home of the Opry. I got to the Country Music Hall of Fame too late, so I'll save that for another trip. I did drive out of town to "gawk" at the homes of the stars. Minnie Pearl's got a fabulous estate right next door to the Governor. Tammy Wynette's place was really something, too. I couldn't get a good view of Johnny Cash's house on the river. Little Jimmy Dickens' one story ranch was a bit modest.

I stayed at a newer hotel called the Club House Inn. The location was great since it's right near the airport and just south of the Opry. They have great weekend rate which includes a free full buffet breakfast.

Romantic tale rooted at Apple Tree Theatre

Critic's Choice

Feathers are flying at Apple Tree Theatre in Highland Park, where "The Swan," a comic fable written by Elizabeth Egloff and directed by Mark T Lococo, is playing through June 13.

It's a romantic tale rooted in mythology about a thrice-divorced nurse, Dora, who discovers true love when she takes in a swan that crash landed on the window of her living room.

Bill, a kind of man/bird, is an unusual creature. At first he brings in rabbits and mice he has snared as food; later, he takes to wearing clothes—suits, ties and such—and mimicking the words and actions of those around him.

Among those Bill must deal with is Kevin, an unhappily married milkman who is involved with Dora in an unsatisfying relationship. Kevin (played by James Sudik) quickly recognizes what a serious adversary a swan can be!

Kate Buddeke, as Dora, finds her life just isn't the same now that Bill (Kevin Gudahl, in a remarkable interpretation) has come on the scene.

Monika Essen, scenic designer, deserves special mention for her kitschy set.

Ticket information is available at 432-4335.—by TOM WITOM

Join women's fitness camp

Join a dynamic group of women and explore a holistic approach to wellness. Women's Fitness Camp offers: a supervised nutritional low-fat food program, exercise classes and healthy life style seminars.

YMCA Camp Duncan is a beautiful and peaceful resident camp located in Ingleside. Camp Duncan possesses a quiet natural beauty that includes large, old oak trees and a private lake. Duncan's well maintained facilities includes a dining hall with knotty pine walls that house two stone fireplaces, rustic cabins, modern centrally located washrooms, a well equipped lake front, Olympic indoor swimming pool and 400 acres of natural beauty.

Camp organizers say a typical day begins with an early morning hike and wake-up stretches, followed by breakfast, a step aerobics class, aerobics, lunch, swimming, boating and canoeing, healthy life style seminars, volleyball, dinner, hikes and an evening program and relaxation exercises before bed.

Not all campers participate in the exercise activities, according to Cass Hale, Women's Fitness Camp Director. "There are some who come to paint, read or some—just relax. Participants have the choice of participating or not. This is a week to relax and unwind. Participants may want to pamper themselves to a massage, haircut and/or manicure—all available on site for an additional charge.

Come see the difference that a well planned program of exercise, healthy food, relaxation, and health related activities can make."

Wheel World

'Yonkers' great film find

"Everybody's loss is someone else's gain," is a bit of philosophy that came to mind while watching Neil Simon's Pulitzer Prize play open on the movie screen.

"Lost in Yonkers," walked away with a lot of Tonys for its stage version and now Mercedes Ruehl, Irene Worth and Richard Dreyfus threaten to do much of the same at the next Academy Awards.

Director Elmer Bernstein treats Simon's salute to the wide variety and bigger hearts that surround each and everyone of us, with TLC.

Mercedes Ruehl, who has already been enmeshed with the award syndrome for her role in "The Fisher King," transfers the role she played on Broadway to the big screen with unquestionable success.

In playing the childlike and innocent, yet courageous Bella, she exudes a whimsical freshness that is full of hope. She is funny, she is melancholy. She philosophizes while striving to understand the simple.

Richard Dreyfus gives his usual perfect performance as her wisecracking gangster of a brother full of bluster while hiding the proverbial golden heart.

Irene Worth's Hitler-like Jewish immigrant is a masterpiece of contradictions.

Jay and Arty, played by Brad Stoll and Mike Damus, go to live with Worth, their grandmother in Yonkers when their father is forced to take to the road to earn a living.

The visit is pregnant with valuable insights, as they learn to love Bella's openness, Dreyfus's innate goodness, and even scratch the veneer of their grandmother's iron heart.

This is a family show about the innocence, ignorance and racism of the 1940s, done with an expert touch.

"Yonkers," rated PG, will have you smiling and crying, often both at the same time. Simon's talent with the human touch, plus the fine cast, draws a four out of five star rating.

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The week will begin on an inspirational note, but duties relating to others have to be attended to later in the week. You will be tempted to goof off some at work this week, but avoid this. Use your powers of concentration. A meeting with close ties brings you pleasant surprises.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Domestic interests are favored this week, but ethical considerations are paramount on the job. An extra career push pays dividends now, but refrain from mixing business with pleasure. Leisure plans are subject to possible change.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Find less expensive ways to have fun this week. Your domestic routine is liable to be upset in some way later in the week. However, do be flexible about this. Find an outlet for extra creative energy over the weekend.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Attend to domestic duties early in the week. Midweek, shop for the home, but use care in speech since misunderstandings could arise later. An on-again, off-again deal could try your patience, but hang in there. Sharing ideas with a loved one increases rapport.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Be more optimistic about a certain work project. You'll make a purchase this week that you're destined to be proud of. Unexpected expenses could arise while you are having fun this weekend, so be prepared. Utilize creative talents.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You work best this week from behind the scenes. Privacy abets accomplishment. You'll come up with the answers to that troublesome business matter. Avoid overdoing the social scene this weekend. A sudden urge leads to a nice purchase for the home.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Don't be reluctant to face a domestic responsibility. This week, you should get your socializing in early. As the week wanes, you'll want some privacy for yourself and your mate. Romance is in the stars this weekend.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Though career progress is assured this week, you seem to be troubled inwardly. Think positively. Don't dwell on present limitations. As you've discovered, time has a way of taking care of these things.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Happy news will come from afar, but stick to tried-and-true methods careerwise. Curb eccentricities that could irritate a higher-up. People around you may not be totally straightforward, so listen carefully to what's being said.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Patience is usually your virtue, yet this week you may be anxious about success. Don't grumble about extra responsibilities you may have to assume. Bypass go-betweens and present your viewpoint to higher-ups in person.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Though increased rapport with a close tie makes for happiness, you both have to curb a tendency to spend beyond your means while in your euphoric state. Creative types should meet with agents and advisers this week. This weekend, travel brings benefits.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A friend involves you with a personal problem, but you should expect real progress at work. Acquaintances are unpredictable later this week. Close ties exhibit changeable dispositions, yet are somewhat demanding. This weekend, privacy allows you to put your accounts in order.

Sammy is young at heart

Sammy is a black and white male beagle. At age 10, Sammy is a senior citizen who doesn't look, feel or act his age. Sturdy and active, this delightful dog is in good health and very playful. Sammy loves people. He is also exceptionally sweet—a lovable attentive tail-wagger who will eagerly soak up all the love you can give him, and return it with a beagle's special brand of loyal companionship.

Sammy deserves to find an excellent home where he can spend his golden years. This little guy is young at heart, where it really counts! Sammy is in cage 82 and can be adopted for a $55 cash donation. Fees include spay/neuter, collar, tag, leash, follow-up care, first shots and more.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd. in Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week. Call 945-0235 for further information.

Sammy

A lifetime of companionship

Many wonderful cats (and dogs) are available for immediate adoption! Please consider adopting one of these affectionate, beautifully, but homeless animals! Although they are not usually "purebreds," they are full of love and will provide a lifetime of loyal companionship.

For adoption information call the Assisi Animal Foundation at (815)455-9411. Adoption fees include spay or neuter and shots.

African-American settler researched

Amos Bennett, Lake County's first African-American settler, is being researched by staff at the Lake County Forest Preserve's Lake County Museum. Bennett is the first of a series of historical minority figures being researched by the Museum.

Little information on Bennett has been published and extensive research has never before been attempted. The search involves the cooperation of several historic institutions. It is being supported by Jimmy Dorsey, a leader in Lake County's African-American community and Sociology Professor at the College of Lake County.

Preliminary findings have revealed that Bennett was not a "squatter," as previously believed, but the owner of several parcels of land in Warren Township between 1843 and 1852. Though documentation has not yet been found, there are indications that Daniel Wright, who has been traditionally honored as the first non-Native American to settle in the county, may have been preceded by Bennett in 1834.

An article on the Bennett research appears in the current issue of the Lake County Museum Association's Historian newsletter. An upcoming issue will feature additional information on the project. For a free copy, call 526-7878.

The Lake County Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda, on Route 176 just west of Fairfield Road.

Adler director resigns

The David Adler Cultural Center, located in Libertyville, accepted the resignation of Richard Friedman, the Center's Executive Director. "The Center has provided some wonderful programming during Richard's tenure," according to Jeff Robinson, Chairman of the Center's Board of Directors.

"While his departure will leave us without a full-time executive director for the short term, we have a highly talented staff who are capable of continuing the current level of programming. Also, our teachers are a strong group of skilled instructors. The search for Richard's successor will commence after the board has clearly defined the Center's needs." Current programs including the Center's music and arts programming will continue uninterrupted. Management of the Center is being provided during the short term by existing staff members as well as active participation by various Board members.

Richard expressed his personal thanks to the Village of Libertyville and the companies, individuals and staff members who provided strong support to the Center during his year-and-a-half term as Executive Director. "The Center has ambitious plans for the future. To achieve its goals, it is important that the Board and Executive Director are philosophically aligned as to the management of the Center's affairs. It would not have been possible to achieve either my goals or the Center's without a stronger sense of harmony." Despite his resignation, Richard said that the Center's stated mission is one that he endorses and that the Center is worthy of continuing community, corporate and individual support.

The David Adler Cultural Center is dedicated to promoting the cultural arts as integral parts of everyday life. Its year-round activities are designed to foster critical thinking and interpretation, participation, entertainment and achievement in the arts and for the people of northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. The Cultural Center also maintains and interprets the historic home of architect David Adler, located in Libertyville, Illinois, which is the base of its activities and a visual image of the harmony between art and daily life.

The focus of the Center's programming is the presentation of art and artistic activity which is an integral part of everyday life. In such, the Center seeks to reflect an interdisciplinary perspective that is diverse, yet balanced in content and artistic media. Programming seeks to be accessible to individuals of all ages, backgrounds and interest, providing opportunities for in-depth participation and appreciation of the arts.

Take a hike for National Trails Day

Two afternoon programs to mark National Trails Day on Saturday, June 5 are planned by the Lake County Forest Preserves along the Des Plaines River Trail.

A two-mile long naturalist-guided hike will leave from Half Day Forest Preserve near Vernon Hills at 1:30 p.m. At the same time, a 15-mile long guided bike ride will depart from Van Patten Woods Forest Preserve near Wadsworth. National Trails Day is the brainchild of the American Hiking Society, and is being sponsored by numerous outdoor recreation equipment manufacturers and retailers, the U.S. Department of the Interior, and local agencies such as the Lake County Forest Preserves. The Lake County events are just two of more than 2,000 similar programs on trails from Maine to California.

Both the hike and the bike ride are for ages 12 through adult. There is a fee of $2 per person ($1 for Lake County residents). Reservations are required; call (708)948-7750.

In addition to the 18 miles of the Des Plaines River Trail already completed, there are 51 miles of trails for hiking, bicycling, horseback riding and physical fitness in the Lake County Forest Preserves. Trail users can call 367-6640 for maps of the Des Plaines River Trail and information on other trails.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

I received an interesting telephone call a few weeks back from the head of personnel of a local corporation who had tried his luck at trying to hire through the newspaper want ads. His idea was to have people send in their resumes. He would then filter through them to decide which of those candidates would be beneficial to meet and eligible to interview for the available position. What absolutely amazed him were not only the scores of resumes sent in, but the amount of resumes which were almost identical. As he put it, "I feel as though I am looking at clones from a bad sci-fi flick. Never before have I run across so many resumes with the identical objective, same format and layout."

I received his call for help when he said he realized the avenue he had chosen was not the way to go. After having ravaged through these piles of "canned resumes", the corporation made the decision to cast them aside with the feeling that these individuals were not showing any sense of individuality. "The only difference after a while," he said, "were the names, dates and employers. How is an employer supposed to decide from clones?" My answer to him was simple. That is why there are employment services such as ours who elevate the time taken to filter through the paper work...choose a few good candidates who will meet the needs through careful screening and present only those candidates who we feel will meet the requirements. The employer then is more at ease to meet with these individuals, make his own decision and the work is complete. If you are looking to put together a resume and planning to do it yourself, libraries and bookstores have books with sample resumes. They are great, but are not meant to copy word for word objectives, and such. Put effort into your objective, as well your duties and format. There are many print shops that will help you select a format and typesetting with moderate charges. If you choose a resume service, be sure that you work close with the person setting this up so they do not create the person you are not nor create a resume that is a format identical to the last ten people who left their office. There are some job seekers out there with the belief that if you print your resume on hot pink stationery, or go for the bizarre, that it will attract more attention. It may attract attention, however, it may not be the type of attention a more conservative person would look at twice. Keep in mind that "less is more". Go over your resume and make as many changes as you feel necessary until you are satisfied with the end product. Have someone else look it over. Bounce it off others and see if it is you. Keep your format conservative, not flamboyant. And most important...proofread your product before it goes to print! GARAGE: 580 square feet

BIRCH (402-61)
By Landmark Designs, Inc.

A gazebo-shaped nook and a wide front porch give a festive and welcoming appearance to the Birch, a small home designed for a young family, a single person, or an older couple with grown children. Bedrooms are clustered together, to the right, and family living spaces, both formal and informal, are to the left.

The nook, with its eight-sided vaulted ceiling, is equally striking inside. Naturally illuminated by bay windows, this room is filled with light. Potted plants put on their best leaf and bloom in this sunny spot, and when neighbors and other guests drop by, they'll probably want to sit here to chat.

Washer and dryer are close at hand, hidden behind pocket doors in a pass-through space to the garage. A wide multipaned window provides plenty of natural light, and the counter beneath the window is handy for folding clothes. Some women might like to put their sewing machine here.

The kitchen has plenty of cupboard and counter space and a sink that faces into the nook. A large pantry adds still more storage capacity. Other amenities include a built-in dishwasher, range and oven.

Dining room and living room flow together. These rooms could be furnished either formally or informally, as dictated by family preference. In the living room, windows flank the fireplace and sliding glass doors open onto the patio or deck.

Storage space is plentiful in this plan. A coat closet is just inside the entry and a long storage closet lines the hallway to the bedrooms. The master suite has a large walk-in closet and a wide linen closet. Amenities in the private bathroom include twin basins and an oversized shower.

Secondary bedrooms are equal in size. They share a dual-compartment bathroom with a long slender window over the mirror.

The garage isn't dark either. It has two windows at the back.

join the Antioch Fire Department. They would not take me because I live in the township not the village. I am very upset about this and have a lot of experience too. They should change these rules, it bothers me.

Good Work

I would like to give a great big thanks to the young men in Grant Township Highway Department. They did an excellent job during the flooding.

Used Car Lot

The Mundelein K-Mart is turning into a used car lot. Driving down the road, you can see many cars for sale. Anywhere from 4 to 10 cars. The store and village should clean up their act and tow the cars away that are there overnight.

Cat Watching?

What kind of ignorant comment is that, "Blame the Cat"? How are you supposed to be watching a cat in your own yard? Please, give me a break. How would like to be put in your backyard and be shot? That was cruel and ignorant. How can you watch a cat every minute. Get a life "Blame the Cat"!

Driving Tip

Lipservice should alert all drivers that school is almost over and there will be lots of children outside. We need to slow down in our cars and trucks, and remember that there are children all around.

Antioch Speedway

It is time for the Antioch Police to keep a better watch on the speeding on Route 83 through town. Yesterday I was trying to shop in the village and was nearly mowed down by motorists. Worse yet, I was trying to get my baby out of the car! We need a radar trap in town to stop this. I will not shop in the village until something is done about it.

Good Group

I am calling about Parents without Partners. I think it is a wonderful group and the number is 265-0833.

Who Wants It

I just read they want to run a bike path through the Country Ridge subdivision in Wauconda. They also want to put in an overpass. I think this is ridiculous. Who wants a bike trail in front of your property? Worse, they will become snowmobile paths in the winter.

Huh?

Wake up Round Lake Heights. Who is running the village? Is it the chicken man or the sewer cover man? Good question, huh?

Poetry Lover

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
Poems are unwanted,
And so are you.

Ever-ready Election

It is unfortunate that the Gurnee mayoral campaign is still going, and going, and going. The election is over and the citizens of Gurnee clearly love their mayor. Why don't you others get over your loss and get a life?

Voter Warning

I am from Grayslake and want to comment on the first council meeting headed by our new mayor. The trustees from the previous mayor denied the new mayor her choice of appointees. Just to thwart her! Remember, some of you are up for reelection soon. The voters will not forget these antics.

Fishy Story

I am from Round Lake Park and would like to thank the idiot who dumped his fishguts in the parking lot of the Round Lake Video. It's nice to know you care!

Thanks A Lot

I want to personally thank the juveniles that spray painted gang signs all over my rental truck in Round Lake. I wish these children's parents would spend more time with them and teach them more constructive things to do. I will not be sorry to move from here.

Good Program

I am want to thank Antioch DARE program very interesting and helpful. It was fun and inspiring.

Slow Down

Hey Lipservice, I think you are doing a great job. It is the only reason I get the paper. I am from Round Lake Beach. I want to complain about a certain driver on Villa Vista who speeds and has a loud muffler. It is an early '60s wagon. Slow it down and put a muffler on that piece of junk. There are kids running around.

More Barking Dogs

I live in Round Lake Beach and agree that there are dogs around that need to be trained not to bark. I live on Woodbine and we have dogs barking at all hours. It is rough to get up early in the morning for work after a dog keeps you up all night. You should move to a place with a bigger yard so that you are not so close to your neighbors.

Matter of Opinion

I want to know why my message wasn't printed about the Holocaust Museum. I think it was a good message. It should have been heard. You should have printed it instead of all this other garbage about cats getting shot, people getting mad about signs, and all that other crap.

Hush Money

Last week when the Omni Store had to be evacuated, I told my husband it was only a matter of time before someone sues. I think it was a shame. Of course they should pay for that woman's medical costs. But, everyone is looking for a free ride. I say, "Omni, give her a couple of thousand, so she will shut her mouth."

Those Kind

I wonder why no newspaper has the guts to print that awful letter written to the Antioch Township and also to that Reverend? That letter proves what kind of people are running the town of Antioch. I'm from Antioch

Public Service

People need the opportunity to speak their minds. If one person believes a lie, no doubt there are hundreds of others out there with the same mistaken belief. Newspapers are not trusted anymore, so Lipservice provides for a real need to hear from other people. It's talk radio in print!

Parents Not Selfish

All of you parents with healthy children take a look at those kids. Now, try and imagine that they have any kind of handicap and because of that was not allowed to do what all of the other kids around him are doing. I think the parents of the kid in the iceless hockey problem are not selfish. They are just trying to do for their kids like everyone else. I am from Round Lake Beach and a mother of two.

Check The Facts

After reading, "Throw The Bums Out" I am reminded that ignorance still abounds. Obviously, this person does not know the facts. I live in Island Lake.

Wants A Fence

I was recently denied a fence permit in Island Lake. I guess if I was fortunate enough to be a newly elected village trustee then I too could have a non-conforming fence in my backyard.

What's Going On?

What is going on in Lake Villa between the township and school board, it sure reeks of backroom politics? I feel like I am back in the city.

Confused?

I am calling about the Grayslake cheer leading tryouts. I understand they had a coach on the panel selecting girls who had been asked to sit down due to personality conflicts last year. And, because she was one of the judges, there were three senior girls that were on the squad last year that will not be on next year because of her pettiness.

Nothing Is Fair

I am from Antioch and upset about the iceless hockey issue. By claiming discrimination, he is actually discriminating against our normal kids. That's not fair. Kids with disabilities should be in their own leagues. Please don't mix them with our normal, healthy kids.

Another Mans Treasure

To the person who stole that ladies orange top with hand painted silver flames and silver and gold hand painted scooped "V" neck, I hope when you wear it everyone knows you stole it from my garage. The sale was during Memorial Day weekend.

Class Act

Does anyone have any information on the Class of '83 Grant High School reunion? Why are we the only high school in the northern Illinois area that has no information about their reunion. Are the class officers too busy? Can't they ask for help?

Wake Up Call

Wake up Lake Villa. Do we really need two supervisors, one getting $27,000 and the other $24,000? Come on folks, be at the budget hearing June 9 at the township hall to raise hell. I'm from Lindenhurst.

Help

The reason I am calling is because my wife has left me with two small children. I was wondering if there was some group that does things for parents like me with small children. I live in Mundelein.

Friends helping woman to breathe easier

Take a deep breath. Then let it out. Doesn't that feel good?

Pamela Airth Smith has never been able to do that. But she will.

The 26-year-old resident of Gurnee was diagnosed at birth with cystic fibrosis. Her life has been a series of lung infections and medical treatments.

Pam is one of the lucky ones. Many people born with the disease don't make it to adulthood.

Now she has a chance for a normal life. Her friends and neighbors are determined to see that she will have one.

"I want to be able to run upstairs," Pam tells her mother who takes care of her.

Presently she is totally dependent on oxygen and suffers continuously from headaches, dizziness, shaking and frequent lung infections.

Pam is waiting for a bilateral lung transplant.

In March she underwent 10 days of extensive testing at Barnes Hospital in St. Louis to determine if she was a good candidate for a transplant, and recently received word that she was on the waiting list for a set of lungs.

When the call comes she must fly to St. Louis at a moment's notice; she won't be able to return home for about nine months.

When Pam and Chuck Smith joined the neighborhood in Providence Village a couple of years ago, no-one was aware of her condition. Then, during a neighborhood party, she became ill and had to be rushed to the hospital.

"All of us were devastated," said Debbie Dunn. "Our hearts went out to them. They never complained."

When the possibility of a transplant came up, Chuck confided to Dennis Dunn that they might have to sell their home to pay for living expenses during her recuperation as well as the astronomical medical costs.

"None of us wanted to see that happen," says Debbie.

Neighbors started calling each other. Soon about 35 people got together to take action and their concern mushroomed into a huge network of people wanting to help.

"When it hits home it touches you in a whole different way," said Nancy Sakol, a close neighbor of the Smiths.

"We're really pulling together. We want to give Pammy her life back. The simple pleasures people take for granted she just doesn't know."

Sakol has been instrumental in getting donations for a silent auction.

Neighbors Tom and Debbie Memeth have opened an account for Pam at the Bank of Waukegan where Tom is an officer. The present balance is about $101.

"We had to set our sights on some major fund-raisers," says Dunn. She and her husband serve as chairpersons of the committee.

A golf tournament in Pam's honor is planned for Sunday, August 29, at the Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth. The entrance fee of $125 will include a meal. Anyone wishing more information may call Debbie at 336-1666.

"If You Can't Breathe, Nothing Else Matters," is the theme for a dinner dance scheduled for September 18 at the Rosemont Horizon. A silent auction will offer a vast array of items. Tickets for that will be $50. Many of the costs for the event have already been either donated or waived.

"Business people have been very responsive," says Dunn.

Sakol adds, "Everyone I've contacted wants to do whatever they can."

Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton has added his assistance in a way that will involve not only the immediate community but the entire area.

June 21-24 will be "Shop & Share Week" at all Welton's Markets. Shopper need only take their cash register tapes to the service counter and indicate they wish to help Pam. Welton's will donate 5 percent of the net bill to the fund.

There are two Welton's stores in Gurnee, one in Round Lake, and one in Mundelein.

The neighborhood kids are even getting into the act.

"All the kids love her," says Dunn.

About 15 kids from 4 to 9 are planning a car wash and lemonade stand. The event is tentatively scheduled for June 18 in the parking lot at Providence Village.

Sakol mentioned the plan at the local True Value Hardware Store and was immediately provided with all the supplies the kids would need.

"The community is really pulling together," she says.

Both Chuck and Pam worked at Baxter Healthcare Corp. Pam had to quit her job as a financial analyst about a year and a half ago. The company has told Chuck he can work part of the time from Pam's St. Louis apartment after the surgery. The two have been married only two and one-half years.

"They have been given a dream," says Sakol. "She's beat all the odds so far."

Donations and contributions to the Pamela Smith Medical Fund may be sent to P.O. Box 972, Glenview, IL 60025-0972. The committee welcomes cash and items for the silent auction as well as any support or ideas.

'A celebration of life' arrives

The Auxiliary of Condell Medical Center has launched a special project to address the need for organ and tissue donations. The program titled, "A Celebration of Life" includes a 15 minute video describing the lives of five organ recipients.

The goal of the program is to encourage discussion and understanding of the vital need for organ donors. More than 26,000 people in the United States currently await a transplant and someone new is added to the transplant waiting list every 30 minutes.

The video takes a very positive approach to this important topic and is targeted to an audience varying in age and ethnic background. Through the video the experience of struggle as well as the joy each recipient and his/her family experience. Viewers feel a part of the people's lives and are more aware than ever of the need for signing donor cards and promoting this throughout the community.

Fellowship program underway at Allendale

Allendale Association, an Illinois State Board of Education approved private school and Illinois licensed child welfare agency, in cooperation with the University of Illinois, is participating in a fellowship training program for psychiatrists specializing in child and adolescent psychiatry.

Four fellows are each spending a three-month rotation at Allendale's residential, therapeutic, educational treatment center in Lake Villa.

Allendale is the only private not-for-profit agency accredited by both the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Psychiatric Facilities for Children and Adolescents and the Council on Accreditation of Services for Families and Children, Inc. Allendale is a treatment center for emotionally disturbed children. Many of the children, ages eight to 18, are victims of physical or sexual abuse or neglect, or suffer from severe behavior disorders. Allendale serves this population through residential treatment, special education programs, specialized foster care and an outpatient counseling center. More than 600 children and their families are helped each year. Children come from throughout Illinois with concentrations from Lake, Cook and McHenry counties.

Allendale Assn. kicked off a capital campaign in 1992 with a goal of over $8 million. To date, with generous pledges and donations, it has raised $5.9 million.

Abbott Laboratories supports program for mentally ill

Abbott Laboratories has sent Independence Center a $5,000 check along with a commitment for an additional $5,000 check next year. These funds will help the Center continue to serve the needs of Lake County residents who have mental illness.

Abbott helped Independence Center open in 1989 with a "start-up" grant, and since that time, has helped the Center in many ways. The company has participated in Independence Center's Transitional Employment Program, helped to recruit volunteers, and donated a variety of furniture.

Independence Center provides rehabilitation for persons with mental illness by providing job training, socialization, and support. The program uses a model in which the mentally ill are considered members of a club rather than a "client" or "patient." General work skills are learned as members participate in the operation of the Center. Members can then be placed on jobs in the community.

Lake Forest is trauma center

The Illinois Dept. of Public Health awarded Lake Forest Hospital redesignation as a Level II Trauma Center—dedicated to providing optimal care to trauma patients. The IDPH is confident that the hospital will continue to provide quality trauma care and assist in the overall coordination of the delivery of trauma patient care in Lake County.

Lake Forest Hospital handled close to 18,000 emergency cases in 1992. Eight percent of the emergency room nurses are Trauma Nurse Specialized and the physicians are all board certified or qualified by the American Board of Emergency Medicine.

Patriot pals top Bison buddies in regional finale

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The last time Stevenson won a baseball regional championship, the likes of Rob Piggott, David Powers, Pete Turnbull would not think anything of playing a recreational game of baseball with J.D. Blackburn, Brian Romes or Josh Paul.

For they were all youngsters competing in Buffalo Grove baseball at the time as sixth-graders. But time and school boundaries have a way of changing outlooks and the players who went on to the Stevenson program had a far better outlook about themselves following an 11-0 win.

"I played against almost all those guys on that team," Mark Piggott said.

"It feels great to beat them after they beat us the last two years," Stevenson's Kevin Fredrick said.

Fredrick is a pitcher and hitter on a tear. He followed an 11-strikeout day in a 1-0 win over Deerfield with 10 more against the Bison in five innings.

"My Dad helped me a lot," Mark Piggott said.

"At the beginning of the year, we were all just there. At the midway portion of the season, we began to jell. Now we are all together. No one is selfish on the team," he said.

Wildcats find curious ways to claim another regional

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

The Elgin baseball coach who attended the Libertyville-Carmel regional final baseball game may still be shaking his head.

The scouting report on the Libertyville baseball team heading into the Barrington sectional game Saturday, June 5 may read something like this: Keep the game to seven innings and keep the arguments to a minimum. If you don't, you could see the Wildcats playing Monday for the right to play in the state finals.

For the second time in as many games, the Wildcats won with an unusual style of baseball. The 3-2, 10 inning win over

And this came on the heels of a wild, 14-inning, 4-2 win over Waukegan in the semifinals.

"I think having the game we did Saturday helped us. It showed we could win one like that," Libertyville Coach Jim Panther said.

The balk call came in the 10th with Bob Paulson at the plate. Moments before, there was an interference call which was at one time termed a rundown and a second out was called. Bernthal was sent back to

Stevenson's Joyce sets sights on national meets

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

It had been some 60 hours after Pat Joyce had competed in the 1,600-meter run at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston.

"I'm looking back and it is kind of sad to think all my running days are over at Stevenson," Joyce said.

Bound for North Carolina State University next fall, the Stevenson standout will be looking for national rankings. His next challenge will be the Keebler track and field meet, an invitational affair.

Joyce may soon find himself in a new arena of running. "They want to expose me to some international races. I hope to be their third or fourth runner on the cross country team," he said.

The Stevenson distance king completed his prep career with a bang, defending his title in the 3,200-meter run with a 9:02.7. Some 90 minutes with the spotlight still warm, he finished second in the 1,600-meter run with a 4:17:36. Those two finishes earned Stevenson 11 points and a tie for seventh place in the Class AA meet.

"The 3,200 and 1,600 meters is the most difficult double in track. I just keep thinking about running. Ever since my freshman year, I wanted to win a state title," Joyce said.

"It is a totally different atmosphere at the state meet," Stevenson coach Hank Andrew said.

Joyce credits his father, Bob, with most of the inspiration.

"He ran his usual race. He was far ahead of the field," Andrew said.

Joyce led the 1,600 most of the way before being caught and passed by Elliott Nott of Normal.

Libertyville's Chris Brown continued to challenge Joyce to the end. He was third in the 3,200 with a 9:15.6.

Libertyville's 3,200-meter relay team of Mike Schneiders, Jeff Zematis, Mike Crane and Nate Westin finished seventh with an 8:03.36 in the finals. That gave the Wildcats eight points and a tie for 26th place.

Westin was 10th in the state in the 1,600.

Lake Zurich hurdling specialist John Christensen was fifth in the 300 with a 38.9 and ninth in the 110 with a 14:85.

Aaron Bell of Antioch qualified for the finals in the high jump in his first year of track.

Mundelein offense hitting on all cylinders in regional Stevenson, Carmel and now Lake Forest all have something in common.

The three softball teams have been victimized by what is a tradition in these parts — Mundelein scoring the big inning when it had to.

The Mustangs did just that against Lake Forest in the regional final Tuesday, scoring nine runs in the sixth inning for a 10-0 win. The victory advanced the Mustangs (27-4) to a battle with Woodstock in a 10 a.m. game at Barrington sectional Saturday June 5. Woodstock upset Johnsburg 4-3.

"We have been hitting the ball real well and this is a nice time of year to be doing that," Mundelein coach Perry Wilhelm said.

Mundelein scored the only run it would need in the first inning.

Tiffany Campbell led the way with 3 for 4 with three RBIs.

Lindsey Prezell was steady again on the mound, surrendering just two hits and notching three strikeouts.

"We're just taking it one game at a time and keeping focused," Wilhelm said.

Mundelein beat crosstown rival Carmel 9-1 on a three-run third and Stevenson 10-0. Carmel had defeated Waukegan in first round action.

Wildcat kickers adjust, gain shot at mighty Bison

Libertyville's soccer team probably realized early on the contest with Stevenson would not be one in which records would be set in a high-scoring affair.

So the Wildcats (16-5) adjusted to the Stevenson defense and made goals by Kristin Bachochin and Alison Marquardt stand up in a 2-0 sectional semifinal win. Libertyville faced its old foe, Buffalo Grove, in the sectional final.

"When we saw them go to double sweeper, Jeff (McKenzie, assistant coach) and I knew it was not going to be a high-scoring game. They are packing it back. We were happy to get one and we got two. You have to keep pressure on them. We were keeping the ball in their back third or in the middle third we thought we were going to win the game," Libertyville coach Andy Bitta said.

The second-half goal was by Marquardt. Marquardt scored on an unusual play in which the ball slipped off Campbell's hands and into the net after the goalie had apparently stopped the shot.

"Angie got the ball on the far post and got it across and there was Kristin on the far post waiting for her. She had a nice goal today," Bitta said.

"Sooner or later, you will get a cheapie. But as my friends the soccer coaches say as long as it crosses the line, it doesn't matter. When you have some great opportunities and hit the post and have one of those, you take it," Bitta said of the second score.

went wide of the net.

The goal was Bachochin's fourth of the season and brought on a feeling of anticipation as the sectional final approached.

"We are totally looking forward to playing them. We want to get those early goals," Bachochin said.

Shutouts are commonplace for the Wildcats, who won their regional final with a 4-0 whitewash of Prospect. Stevenson's leader, Kabb, was not a factor. Scoring in the win over Prospect was DalBello with three goals, Amy Cooper netting the fourth.

"Everyone was totally marking up on their players. Our defense has always been awesome," Bachochin said.

Stevenson, the third seed, advanced to the sectional round against the top seed with a hard-fought 2-1 win over Hersey. Coach Randy Anderson's team reached the .500 mark at 10-11-3 despite playing the best competition.

"We played a tough schedule this year. We did not feel we played that bad. We stayed with the game plan. We made a couple of critical mistakes. That was the difference. We had some great opportunities in the first half," Anderson said.

Even down 1-0 at halftime, Anderson's forces did not feel themselves out of it.

"The way we played Libertyville last year and the way we played them this year (a 3-1 regular season loss); it was totally dominated by them last year," Anderson said.

While Stevenson's Kabb was being held in check by the Libertyville defense, the Wildcats' Kelly Karl faced the same fate at the other end.

"I thought Alison Souderlund and Judy Karolvsky did an excellent job of bottling her up," Anderson said. "I thought they did a good job. We had a lot of young kids out there so we are looking to the future.

"Against a good team, you have to take advantage of your opportunities and we did not take advantage of the opportunities," Anderson said. "We have tried different systems of play. Even when we came out of a 4-3-3 for another striker up front, we were creating more than we were out of the other. I can't fault our kids."

While Libertyville had another shot at the team which denied them two straight state titles, Stevenson looked to 1994 with junior midfielder-striker Lisa Cholak; junior Jenna Letofsky at midfield-striker; freshman striker Tricia De Clark who scored against Hersey; sophomore defender Souderlund; junior midfielder-striker Leanna Wolowicz and goalie Campbell returning.

Mundelein to miss Rosses, but forecast remains bright

Mundelein's soccer team was forced out of the Stevenson sectional tournament by Buffalo Grove, but Coach Dave Ekstrom & Co. will have plenty of memories of the 1993 season.

They begin with the accomplishments of reaching sectional level for the second straight year; gaining the most wins (13) and goals in school history. And of course, there is J.J. Ross.

Ross, a senior, finished with 46 goals, and herself and her sister, Jamie, are now pondering college choices after Buffalo Grove shutout the Mustangs 5-0.

Mundelein won its second regional title with a 4-1 win over Deerfield after a 9-1 win over Maine West.

It should seem fitting, then, it was J.J. Ross who had the Mustangs best chance, in the first half when the match with the Bison was still in doubt. "I thought it was wide myself. They controlled the game," Mundelein Coach Dave Ekstrom said. "We did our best; we got beat by a better team."

Megan McBride scored two Buffalo Grove goals and Chissy DelCreko also contributed.

"We try not to super-mark anybody, but we wanted to control midfield and keep the ball from her," Buffalo Grove Coach Tom Ford said.

While the Ross sisters take their considerable skills with them when they graduate, the Mustangs have plenty to build on. Sophomore Stephanie Parker is back at goalie. Becky Gradecki returns at midfield.

"Her season was overlooked because of what Ross did," Ekstrom said.

In the Deerfield match, Ross had two goals, and Jenny Davignon and Becky Straub one each.

Elsewhere, at the Conant sectional, Lake Zurich saw its season come to an end with a 4-0 loss to Palatine Fremd in the regional final.

Netting 10 wins something to build on for Rams soccer

Grayslake's soccer team will remember reaching double digits in wins as the highlight of the 1993 season.

The Rams finished at 10-3-1 following a 7-1 defeat at the hands of Hersey in the first round of the Stevenson sectional.

"It was a wild ride. I'm still happy with the record," Coach Joe Martinez said.

The Rams were a tired bunch in the final week of the regular season which saw a 4-3 loss to Lake Forest, a 4-2 win over Lake Forest Academy and a 4-3 win over Cary-Grove.

Waldenstrom had three goals and Chenoa Chebny one in the win over LFA.

"It was a dynamic combination," Martinez said of Chebny-Waldenstrom.

Chebny scored despite a leg injury. Stephanie Smith was suffering from an ankle injury.

"LFA was much better than the last time we played them," Martinez said.

Goalie Toni Gates stopped 16 of 18 shots.

Bison bite Wildcats again

When you see Libertyville girls soccer coach Andy Bitta this offseason, it could be word to the wise not to mention the "BG Word".

That means Buffalo Grove and the mighty Bison. The Bison eliminated Libertyville 2-1 in the sectional final round at Stevenson Tuesday night.

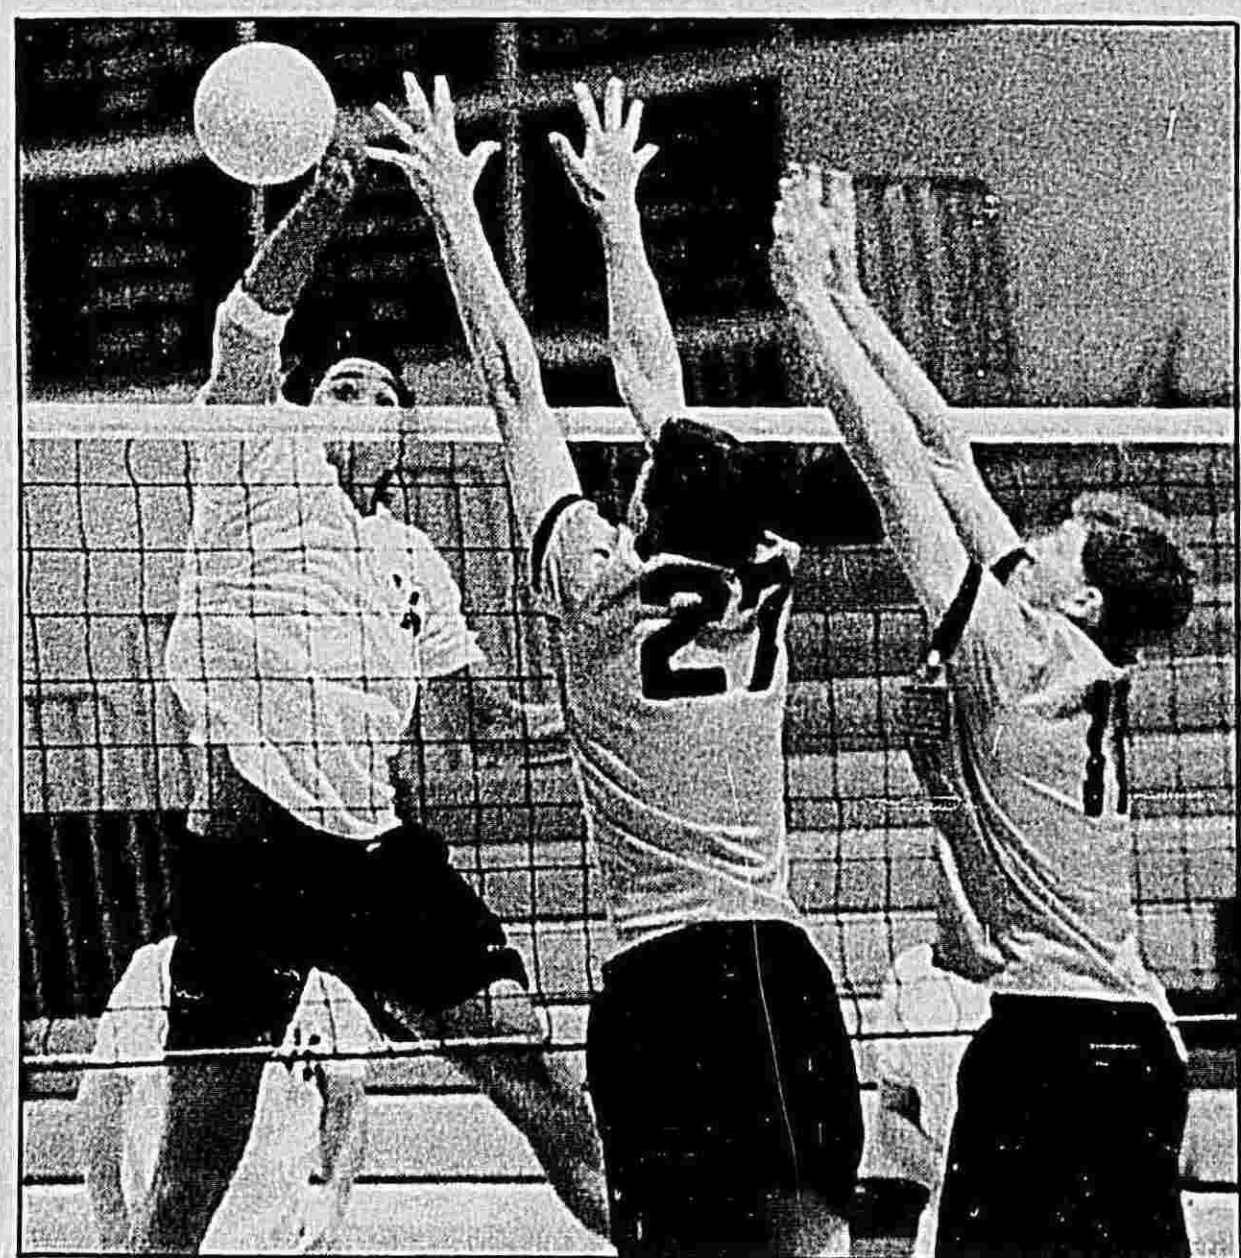

"They played very well and I was upset with the way we played. Our passing was not sharp and a couple of mistakes cost us dearly," Bitta said.

Julie Collins and Meghan McBride scored for the Bison (18-0-1). Erica Chung spoiled the Bison's bid for their 19th straight shutout with a goal with 50 seconds to go.

It was the second straight year Buffalo Grove had eliminated the Wildcats. Libertyville finishes the season 16-6.

"We had a very good year. We have 13 juniors and three sophomores back. We have a lot to work with," Bitta said.

Reach for the sky

Meyers picked by peers for Class AA AD honor

Johnsburg's Jim Meyers has been designated Class AA Athletic Director of the Year by the Illinois Athletic Directors Association (IADA).

John Heidler, president of the Johnsburg school board, said Meyers was a great choice.

"He celebrates with the successes of the athletes and gives them his support in their defeats," Heidler said. "Winning is not the main purpose of his program — it is learning and playing the game well and being a good sport and citizen. To me, this is the essence of what the student should take from the high school education experience."

Dr. Rob Gough, Johnsburg superintendent, echoed Heidler's sentiments about Meyers.

"Beyond his excellent work in leading and organizing, it is Jim's personal caring and people skills that make him the exceptional leader that he is," Gough said.

Jim Meyers

"In this last year, I can recall many issues that would have become major problems — but remained instead minor dilemmas — due to Jim's personal involvement, tact, counseling abilities and genuine caring."

Meyers has assumed a wide variety of tasks and responsibilities in his position at Johnsburg. In addition to the normal overload of administrative duties, he's also responsible for the bidding and supervision of athletic, physical education, health, intramural, laundry and nurse supplies. Meyers is in charge of the district's laundry for athletics, custodial and kitchen services, and he coordinates use of all outdoor facilities with community groups.

Meyers earned his bachelor's and master's degrees at Western Illinois and Northern Illinois, respectively. After a stint at Irving Crown High School, Meyers began at Johnsburg in 1977.

Meyers was a formidable softball player, playing on the 1980 USSSA National Championship team in addition to being named a member of the All-American team four times at three different positions within that organization. He was the McHenry County Class A Baseball Coach of the Year in 1982 and the Northwest Herald Class AA Softball Coach of the Year in 1992.

Meyers has been active in fundraising for such things as expansion of facilities and lights as well as weight room development and equipment. He has served for a number of years on the Northern Illinois Officials Committee Organization, which has established a standard pay scale for officials.

Meyer to address Chamber

The business of college sports will be discussed by Ray Meyer, special assistant to the president of DePaul University and retired DePaul basketball coach, when he addresses the next luncheon meeting of the Greater Lincolnshire Chamber of Commerce.

The meeting will begin with an 11:30 a.m. reception followed by a noon lunch on Tuesday, June 8 at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort, 10 Marriott Dr., Lincolnshire. The public is invited to attend with the cost of lunch $18. Reservations may be made by calling Shirley Friedlander at the chamber at 295-3111.

Known throughout the United States as "Coach," Meyer is one of only five coaches who has won more than 700 basketball games as a Division I coach. His basketball team won one national title and twice more went to the final four. His teams have made 20 postseason tournament trips, posting 37 winning seasons in 42 years.

Meyer is a member of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame, four times National Coach of the Year and a past winner of the prestigious Lincoln Academy of Illinois Award. He has written two books and is a color commentator on radio for DePaul University basketball.

He graduated from the University of Notre Dame with a degree in sociology where he was captain for two years of the basketball team.

Warm-up for bocce meet set

As a prelude to the U.S. Championships June 12-19 at Alpine Country Club in Round Lake, Molinari Sambuca Extra and the United States Bocce Federation will host a bocce exhibition June 7 at Chicago's Daley Plaza at noon. Bocce's finest players, including 1992 men's singles champion Phil Ferrari, will be on hand to demonstrate the game, provide instruction, and answer questions.

"The Daley Plaza Center is a great location for an exhibition and will allow us to introduce the exciting sport of bocce to a large lunch time crowd," said Ferrari.

Bocce, commonly compared to the English game of lawn bowling, is thought to be descended from Greek ball-tossing games. In Bocce, two teams of up to four people throw or roll large colored balls and compete to get them closest to a smaller ball known as a "pallino." Since the 19th century, when bocce first became extremely popular in Italy, generations of Italians have passed down their love for what is becoming the sport of the '90s.

Better Bears bounced

Lake Zurich's baseball team may have been ousted early in the Class AA regional, but the Bears do have some bright spots to remember.

"We improved as a team in all areas from last year. We were 60 points better in batting average, 50 points better in on-base percentage and our earned run average declined by one-half point," Bears coach John Nessheim said.

Brian Haigh led the 13-15 Bears with a .338 batting average; Josh Schwede hit .328, Bryan Courmoyer .324 and James Cuellar .312. All are seniors.

Brian Kreschmer was 2-5 with a 2.38 ERA. Andy Goglin, the losing pitcher against Hersey, was 4-4 with a 2.04 ERA. He was 4-1 in the Fox Valley Conference.

The Bears were eliminated by Hersey 8-2. Six runs in the third inning by the Huskies spelled the difference.

"We gave up five or six outs and had some key mistakes that kept the inning going," Nessheim said.

CHS takes battle of bases, collects regional final spot

Carmel's Curt Salata's injury time was officially over long about 1 p.m. Saturday.

For that was when the Carmel Corsairs wrapped up a 6-2 win over Warren which advanced them to the regional final. Carmel notched its 23rd win of the season as Salata collected three singles.

Salata and Matt Head, both of whom have Gurnee connections, had seven of the nine Carmel hits as Brian Buckingham gained the win in relief.

"We came out hyped up for the game and played together," Head said.

Salata, grew up in Gurnee and many of the Blue Devil (13-13) players he helped end their seasons were old friends.

Head's Gurnee connection is that he took catching pointers from Mike Foote. Foote is a Warren and College of Lake County catcher who went on to play for the national championship at Aurora University.

The game boiled down to the battle of the bases. Carmel had three stolen bases in a two-run fourth inning. Warren had a rough day.

"We had three baserunning errors and that hurt us," Warren Coach Dar Townsend said.

Adam McMahon scattered the Carmel hitting as the Corsairs scored one in the first two innings.

"Adam did an outstanding job. He had good location," Townsend said of the senior.

Carmel took a 2-0 lead after two. Head's RBI single scored Salata in the first.

Warren had the first of its baserunning errors in the first. Mark Leginski doubled, but was tagged out between second and third on a ground ball.

Warren gained a 2-2 tie in the second. Chris Kohn and Matt Pulaski delivered the RBI singles.

Carmel's aggressiveness on the basepaths come home in the fourth. Singles by Head, Jeff Bunker and Buckingham were aided by steals by those three to a 4-2 lead.

Carmel scored single runs in the last two innings.

As for the Blue Devils, Townsend will have plenty of memories. "This was my first season and I coached these guys when they were freshmen. It was a leaning experience for me, too," he said.

Warren, the fifth seed of the Waukegan regional, beat Zion-Benton 13-10 in a wind-blown tourney opener. Carmel had no trouble ousting North Chicago by a 17-3 count.

Wildcats

second base and moved to third on a Shawn Park safety.

"The pitch was clearly a balk. The umpire made the right call," Panther said.

Libertyville, Waukegan regional champs, faces Elgin at Barrington at 1 p.m. June 5.

Libertyville's (24-8) winning pitcher was Adam Jacobsen, who came on in relief with a 2-0 count on Matt Head in the eighth inning with a runner on second base.

"I much prefer to come in relief," Jacobsen said.

Panther had high praise for his pitchers, who rose to the occasion after losing ace Craig Nettles.

Carmel looked like it would be the more aggressive team as it stole four bases while Libertyville missed on its only chance and got picked off in another play.

Junior Jamie Carruthers staked the Wildcats to a 2-0 lead with a homer to left in the fourth.

"It was just a fastball that was over the plate. It was a mistake, but Buckingham is a good pitcher, though," Carruthers said.

Carmel answered with a run in the fourth. Moments after that blast, Tony Longmire put one over the fence in left for a 2-1 LHS lead.

Carmel (24-10) tied it in the fifth inning. Curt Salata reached on an infield hit after Mike Rapplean singled. Rapplean was thrown out at home on a ground out but Salata scored when Longmire reached on an infield hit.

That is where the score stayed for five innings as the two teams traded scoring opportunities.

Carmel came within inches of a lead run in the seventh. Longmire had his third single for the game, and Pettis Kent reached on an infield hit bunt with Longmire on third. But Longmire did not take advantage of the apparent squeeze play, leaving the score 5-5. Erick Jensen then ended the inning with a flyball.

Then the game went into extra innings, which Waukegan and Carmel found out is Wildcat Time.

Baseball notebook: the Waukegan Booster Club members worked overtime at Bowen Park Saturday and Monday, and they were ready each time athletic director Dick Hyde announced "the concession stand is open with food at reasonable prices" . . . Carmel High graduate Scott Stahoviak was promoted the Class AA level but his season has been interrupted by elbow surgery. He was at the Grayslake-Round Lake regular season finale. He is expected to be out five weeks.

Round Lake knew it would have another chance to make waves in the Northwest Suburban Conference season.

The Panthers accomplished all but the last goal. Round Lake was eliminated by Crystal Lake South 5-3 Tuesday in the title game of the Woodstock regional. Round Lake finished with a 16-8 record.

"There was a lot of expectations of this team. Everybody was trying to knock us off every night," Prorok said.

Scott Ellenwood, who had an RBI in the Tuesday loss and three hits in a 10-0 win over Cary-Grove; Mike Niemczyk; centerfielder-base stealing specialist Clint Rodriguez; and catcher Vinnie Lira, who hit .409, will all be missed.

Then there is Justin Koski, who showed his talents on defense, catching and pitching, who will be missed as well. Scott Muellemann was the losing pitcher against the Gators but his efforts helped pace the RL pitching staff.

Juniors who contributed include Eric Martinek, Luther Belcher, Justin Flemming and Ryan Bauer.

Bauer saved his best game for a clutch situation, against Cary in the semis.

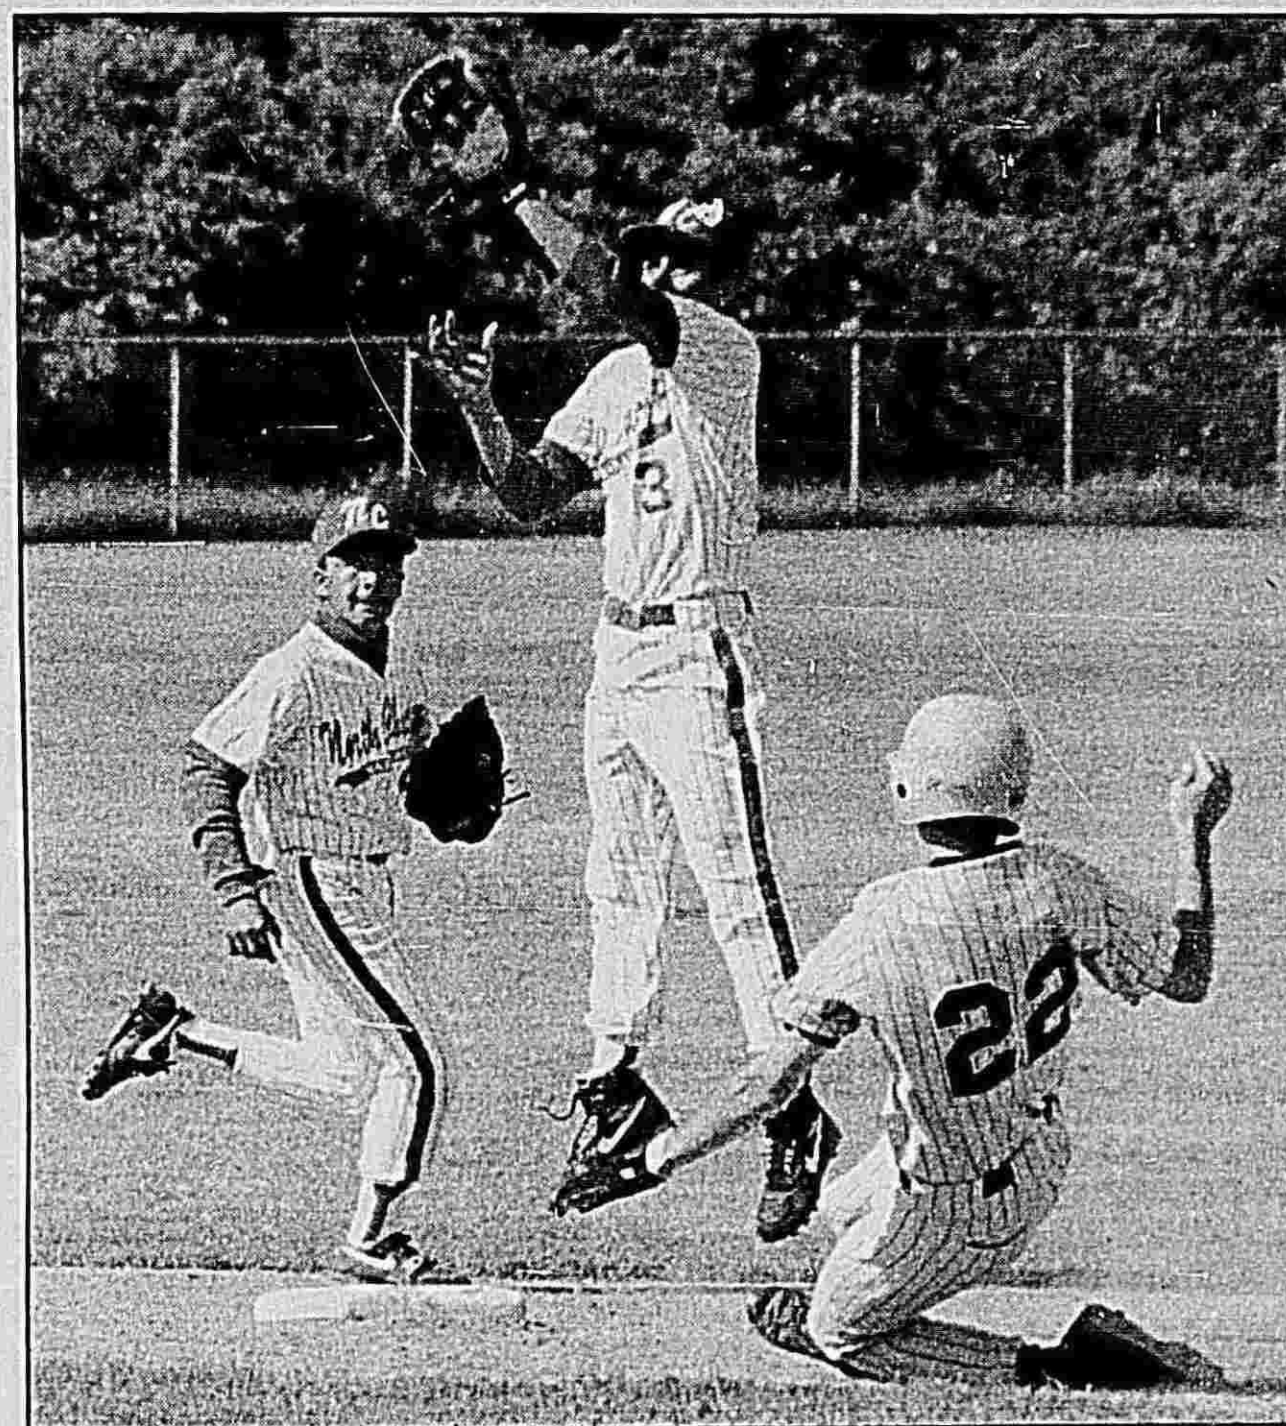

"That was his best outing of the year. If he works hard, he could be a very good ballplayer," Prorok said.

Bauer fanned five and walked three in a seven-hitter.

Rodriguez had two hits and three RBIs; Muellemann was 2 for 4 with three RBIs and Ellenwood had three hits and two RBIs.

Round Lake doubled up on Grant 20-10 in the regional opener Joe Mauer and the Crystlake Lake South Gators proved to be the Panthers' conquerors.

Carruthers hits, pitches 'Cats in long, strange win

The Libertyville baseball team's offense may have been running on three of four cylinders of late, but all that changed Saturday.

"We had not had too much of that," Coach Jim Panther said of the big hit. "We would get a couple of runners on base but not be able to score a run."

Libertyville had to squeak past Grayslake 3-1 in the first Waukegan regional game.

Clutch hitting, mainly in the person of starting pitcher Jamie Carruthers returned as Libertyville edged Waukegan 4-3 in a bizarre 14-inning game in the regional semifinals.

"I thought Jamie did an excellent job of pitching. We should have won in seven innings, but the kids did not quit. I told them I was proud of them," Panther said.

"This is the longest game I've ever played in. I just saw it and hit it," Carruthers said.

Carruthers' two-RBI single in the fourth gave the Wildcats a 3-0 lead. That held until the seventh inning.

Trailing 3-0, Jason Workman and Derek Mitchell collected singles. After an out, a single and a triple produced two runs.

Kelly Ryan then was involved in the controversial play. He was called safe on an infield hit despite a tag by first baseman Andrew Robertson. The end result allowed Brett Bowles to score the tying run.

Libertyville, led by winner Adam Jacobsen, turned out to have the better bullpen this chilly day at Bowen Park.

"I knew I had to come in and shut them down," Jacobsen said.

Neither team could capitalize on baserunners in the next six innings as prefect strangers in the stands became friends.

Then came the Libertyville 14th inning.

Jacobsen walked and was sacrificed to second. After Robert Poulsen struckout, Carruthers delivered the game-winning hit.

Next up, first seed Carmel, a rival which with the Wildcats had a score to settle.

Stellar Skyhawk year ends

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

So many chances, so many memories. In an emotional nutshell, that is what the Johnsbury girls softball team was experiencing Wednesday morning. The Skyhawks were upset by Woodstock 4-3 in the title game of the Johnsbury regional. Yet, there was the 19 victories and second straight conference title which will become clearer once the hurt was over.

"No excuses. We just did not get it done," Johnsbury Coach Jim Meyers said. Lori Herckes, a senior, closed out her JHS career by batting .562, with 32 runs scored and 22 RBIs.

Karen Stilling, a junior infielder, hit .407 with 33 runs scored and 17 RBIs.

Then there was Amanda DeVoy, who hit .349 and led the team with 27 RBIs.

The Skyhawks hit .326 as a team, compared to .204 for the opposition.

But the team lost its season to a Cinderella type squad in Woodstock. The 17-10 Blue Streaks kept the tradition going of no number one team making it to the Barrington sectional. Woodstock, fourth-place team in the Fox Valley Conference, upset Round Lake 9-8 in the semis.

The Skyhawks were limited to five hits by Woodstock's Michelle Groh. Two of Johnsbury's RBIs came on a walk and a ground out.

The Skyhawks had clubbed Crystal Lake Central 13-3 after eliminating Antioch 5-2.

In the Central game, Herckes was two-for-four; Michelle Carmel two-for-three and Stilling had two RBIs.

Stilling, Lynette Regner, Maureen Bielele and Cari Turner all had two hits hits against Central.

Sophomore pitching ace Katie Parker, who suffered her first loss against Woodstock, had 12 strike outs and two walks against the Tigers. "She was on a phenomenal run. She gave up only two walks in the last seven games," Meyers said.

The NWSC's most valuable player will return next year, ready to keep the JHS league domination going.

Strong starts not enough for RL in softball tourney

Round Lake's softball team started two regional games the same way. Unfortunately, the end result was not the same.

The Panthers scored 20 runs in the first inning against Grant and Woodstock. The Panthers cruised to a 24-3 win over the Bulldogs but after the 7-0 lead against Woodstock, matters fell apart in a 9-8 loss.

The game Saturday was Howard Schroeder's last as a coach at RL — a position he has had for 30 years.

"It was bittersweet. I have been in high school coaching for 30 years and I will definitely miss it," Schroeder said.

The Panthers finished with a 15-7 overall record and were second in the Northwest Suburban Conference, three games behind winner Johnsbury.

"Losing six starters from last year's team, I would have been happy to finish .500," Schroeder said.

Against Woodstock, the Panthers scored all eight runs in the first two innings.

The Blue Streaks answered with three in the second, three in the third and three in the fifth and added another in the sixth.

"No phase of our game was good," Schroeder said.

The best news for the new RL softball coach next year is five of the six all-conference selections return.

Shortstop Grace Alaimo, a freshman, is back, coming off a .500 batting average in conference play; her sister Sarah, a junior outfielder-infielder, hit .333 and Monica Miszewski, a senior catcher, hit .447 in conference.

Shannon Zink, who had both decisions in the playoffs, was 14-4, 11-2 in the conference. "If she works hard over the summer, she could be a major force in the conference," Schroeder said.

As for the game in general, Schroeder reflected after his tenure as head coach.

"Especially this year, you have the haves and the have-nots," he said.

Huge inning lifts Wildcats past Warren in regional tilt

Timing, as they say, is everything and Warren's softball team discovered a regional game is not a good time to surrender a nine-run inning.

Libertyville scored nine of its 17 runs in the second inning and coasted to a 17-4 win, ousting Warren from the Mundelein regional tourney.

"Jill (Chumbley) had a difficult day on the mound and they hit her pretty well," Warren coach Joyce Norton said. LHS had 14 hits on the day and took advantage of six Warren errors.

Norton found some bright spots in the season-ending loss. "I was happy with out baserunning and freshman Lisa Aaron came in and had two hits," Norton said.

Lindsey Celba was 3 for 4, Trisha West 2 for 2 and Teresa Halverson 2 for 4. The three combined for nine of the RBIs behind winning pitcher Kerry Gustafson.

Warren, in Norton's first year, finished 13-10. Senior Marlene Elfering was the leading hitter.

"The game is a microcosm of life. You work as a team, find that competitive edge and sometimes you look to find a depth of character," Norton said.

Libertyville was eliminated in the semifinals by Lake Forest.

Pats

Coach Bob Mackey attributed doing the little things to gaining a spot in the Niles West sectional June 5. Stevenson, which tied for second in the North Suburban Conference, is 27-5.

"I think it is a great team. I think we really deserve to win a championship. We were one game short in the league so hopefully we can go on and get some more," Mackey said.

"He's got a great arm and awesome movement on the ball. He's coming on. He was good at the beginning of the year and he's been coming on since," Mackey said.

"He had a little bit of trouble getting ahead of the hitters in the first couple of innings, but he settled down. He threw fastballs to get ahead in the count. The last couple of innings he threw a lot of fastballs and they could not hit them," Allen said.

Fredrick, a junior, is the club's leading home run hitter and clubbed another one this Memorial Day in Lincolnshire.

"I just look for a fastball in my zone," Fredrick said.

The three-run homer in the fourth was part of a five-hit, eight run eruption for an 11-0 lead. Nate McCabe, not to be outdone, cracked another three-run homer a few minutes later.

On the mound, Fredrick offers a totally different look than Stevenson's other quality pitcher, Jeff Turnbull. Turnbull improved to 11-1 with a 5-0 win over Highland Park in the regional opener.

"I don't think I called a changeup today. Turnbull throws a lot more changeups, against Highland Park, especially. Kevin is more of an overpowering pitcher," Allen said.

"He holds the ball with four seams so when he comes down with it, his fastball comes about five or six inches to the inside to a right-handed hitter, outside to a left-handed hitter. It makes it tough to hit, even if his velocity is not there. The last couple innings, he was throwing gas out there," Allen said.

Allen was one of the minority of the Stevenson players not to have played in the Buffalo Grove system. He learned his task from Art Mansavage's Lake County Chiefs.

He holds the same belief as the rest of the Patriots as they head into a 12:30 p.m. game June 5 at Niles West.

"We have a lot of confidence going into the sectional. The shutout gives us a great feeling. We really care about each other a lot," Allen said.

REALTOR

THE LEASE BUYOUT

Here is the problem. You have decided to buy a two-family house jointly with a relative. The price is right, but only one half of the house will be available at the time of purchase—the seller's half. The tenant still has six months to go on his lease and plans to remain. You want to occupy both units at the time of purchase. Is there a solution?

Since you do not desire to wait out the rental term, a solution to the problem could be a lease buy-out. The tenant under lease will obviously know that the lease will not be renewed, however, he might be agreeable to vacate if offered a cash inducement to do so. Lease buy-outs are very common in commercial real estate and might be applicable to this situation.

By purchasing property with the assistance of an experienced residential agent, you gain considerable advantage in working with someone who can negotiate both with the seller and with existing tenants to suit your objective.

If there is anything I can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at RE/MAX HERITAGE, 4641 Grand Avenue, Gurnee. Phone: 336-2600. I'm here to help!

Grayslake's Nyland rules hurdles at jr. high state

Grayslake Middle School's Vanessa Nyland came home with the gold as she won the 110 meter low hurdles in the state junior high track and field meet.

"We figured it out and 36 athletes started out in the event at 12 regional sites. She won each of six preliminary heats and was the second seed going into the state meet," Grayslake Middle School athletic director Tim Borries said.

Nyland, who also competed on the 800 meter relay team and in the long jump, received a break.

"The girl in the fast lane fell when she hit the third hurdle," Borries said. "It may have been a close race if she had not fallen."

Her time of 16.99 was far better than the second-place finisher.

The middle school track team works out around the school grounds and at Grayslake Community High School. Nyland has participated for six years at the Gymnastics Factory.

"That really helps my flexibility and stretching," Nyland said.

The seventh grader is the daughter of Miles and Jill Nyland of Grayslake. Her younger brother Graeme, is on the track team.

Nyland had a 14-6 in the long jump.

Other Panthers set personal bests at the state meet in Washington, Ill.

Jeff Hagen had a 2:19 in the 800 meter run and a 16-7 in the long jump.

Shannon Snyder, Nichole Wright, Samantha Kruger, Nyland ran a 1:58 in the 300 meter run. Stehanie Eldridge is the alternate.

Nick Vlahos had a 34-7 in the shot put.

PLANTAR WARTS

Warts are caused by a virus infection and are often mistaken as corns and calluses. Warts on the bottom of the foot penetrate deep under the skin like a mushroom, because of pressure in standing. Unlike corns and calluses, the center encapsulated area usually has rust-colored spots that are small blood vessels and nerves that supply the wart. For this reason warts are more painful with side to side pinching.

Warts are contagious to susceptible people and are usually found in adolescents.

If the plantar wart is small and discovered early, prescribed chemical agents often times are all that are needed. For large or resistant warts, we often time use Laser surgery that gives good results with minimal discomfort. This is done on an out-patient basis and the patient loses no time off his foot.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Letter to the Editor

Explain audit Editor:

In reference to the front page article in the Grayslake Times concerning the "Park defending grant," I stand by my statement "Members of this board in 1990 budgeted $10,425 for the director's salary to the Capital Improvement Fund which is grant and bond money and budgeted $8,044 for the Spt. of Parks salary." The last official audit of the park dist. books on page 41 also shows that they spent more than they budgeted for the two salaries in this fund.

Employee John Wilson is not the one who should be responding to my letter to the residents of the park dist. The elected officials should be giving the taxpayers the answer to this statement and others made in the letter, such as, on page 50 what is the fund "Other" that cost the taxpayers $20,631. Explain the thousands of dollars spent for seminars, conferences, dues and subscriptions on pages 50 to 51 of the audit, explain to us why we were taxed almost 60 percent more than needed in the Public Liability Fund (pg. 26) and thousands and dollars were used to pay salaries to the Director and Supt. of Parks from this fund, and tell the taxpayer, is it really legal for the same audit firm that does the yearly audit to prepare the monthly treasurer report? Explain to the taxpayers why it is necessary for an employee to have a separate fund for writing $25,550.19 in checks. Statement of cash receipt and disbursements.

The assessed valuation of Grayslake Park Dist. has increased more than 100 percent since 1987, producing 100 percent more in revenue and our tax rate is still higher than in 1987 (pg. 52).

These elected officials are preparing to ask the taxpayers to build a multi-million dollar swim complex for them to manage while the last yearly audit (pg. 25) shows a deficit balance in the recreation fund for 1991 of $22,331 and $14,963 in 1992.

Chew this over—choking first aid

Infants and toddlers will put anything in their mouths. Protect them by keeping small object out of reach.

Chances are, if you look around your home, you'll find some of these items on the floor and on low shelves—accidents waiting to happen. Put them out of reach of young children. Ask older brothers and sisters to store toys with small parts up high.

A child can also choke on these objects: safety pins, nails, tacks, screws, coins, crayon piece, marbles, small parts of a toy, broken or deflated balloons, jewelry, and small batteries.

Round and hard foods are especially dangerous. These snacks can be deadly to child under four. Ask a doctor when your child is old enough to eat these foods: hot dogs, nuts, raisins, hard candies, raw carrots, grapes and popcorn.

Choking is the fourth leading cause of accidental death in young children, especially those under the age of three.

Choking first aid (for conscious victims)

If a child can cough, speak, or breathe, do not interfere. If a child is unable to cough, speak, or breathe, follow these steps.

For an infant:

- Try 4 quick back blows.
- Then give 4 thrusts. Place 2 fingers on the breast bone between the nipples. Push down and let go.
- Repeat until airway is clear.

For a child:

- Stand behind the child with your fists clasped between the navel and bottom of the breast bone.

• Give 4 quick, strong

For an infant:

For a child:

Tips on lead prevention

Protect your child from lead.

- Wash your children's hands before they eat.
- Foods high in iron and calcium—lean meat, eggs, raisins, greens, milk, cheese, fruit and potatoes—help get lead out of the child's system. Limit foods high in fat and oil which keep lead in a child's system.

• Clean up chipping and peeling paint inside and outside your home. Homes built before 1978 may have lead paint in them.

• Clean up paint chips and lead dust in window sills and on the floor near windows, doorways and woodwork. Use a damp mop or cloth and a phosphate cleaning product.

• Wash your child's toys often. Throw away lead painted toys.

• Do not store food in open cans or pottery.

• If you work with lead, shower and change clothes before coming home. Wash your clothes separately.

• Run cold water for a few minutes before using it for cooking and drinking. Do not use water from the hot water tap for cooking, drinking or making formula.

Martial Arts can help your child gain self-confidence, improve concentration and develop self discipline.

Tae Kwon Do has improved both Randy's and Tiffany's self confidence and feeling of self worth dramatically.

They have proven to themselves that they can achieve goals that they thought unreachable. In particular the "Never give up" attitude has crossed over into their school work.

Where he used to shrink from anything new and different he now accepts the challenge readily, and is willing to keep trying until he conquers whatever it is the teacher presents to him.

The biggest factor has been the "family" atmosphere that exists in class. Everyone helps. Everyone is friends. Therefore, no one is left out.

Plenty of summer fun available right at home

As those long awaited summer months are fast approaching, children and parents anxiously begin looking forward to a time of fun and relaxation. While many families plan vacation time away, others choose to vacation in and around their community. Every community has a park district that offers a variety of summer programs that include special events as well as weekly classes in a variety of areas such as arts and crafts and sports. Many even have a swimming pool for public use.

For those who wish to plan weekend outings, the Botanic Gardens in Glenview offers opportunities for families to walk outside among acres of flowers and trees. Lambs Farm in Libertyville offers a petting zoo, miniature golf, a pet store, and an old-fashioned ice cream parlor as well as areas to sit and picnic. Proceeds go towards the program that offers training and employment to special needs adults.

For something really different, the Renaissance Faire in Bristol, Wis., recreates a period of history filled with kings, queens, knights, and dragons. Every aspect of the period is recreated including games and music for children.

There are many activities that can be enjoyed at home as well. Planting a garden together with your child provides endless opportunities for discussing the growth cycle of living things as well as teaching children responsibility for a job. And all those messy art projects such as playdoh and painting can now be done outside with little concern for cleaning up. Of course there are always days spent at parks running, playing and picnicking. No matter what the activity may be, it is important to remember that children enjoy time spent just being outdoors creating their own activities.

Know policies that address health issues

Children do catch colds and other communicable diseases from each other. And their falls, bumps and scrapes are inevitable consequences of their exploration and exuberance, even under the watchful eyes of dotting parents. Child care programs should establish and communicate to parents policies and procedures that address health and safety issues. These should include:

- Any medical requirements for entrance.
- Types of illness or medical conditions that will exclude a child from the facility.
- Reporting of illness.
- Handling illness that develops while the child is being cared for.

- Dispensing and safe keeping of medications.
- Dealing with injury.
- Maintaining medical/health records in accordance with standards of the American Academy of Pediatrics and Public Health.

Staff members should have adequate training to minimize communicable diseases and to provide first aid.

The staff should also be trained in proper food handling to prevent food-borne disease. Food should provide for children's nutritional needs, as well as being tasty and appealing. Food preparation and service areas should be sanitary. Children and staff should wash their hands before handling food and after toileting.

Children must be provided with an environment that is safe, offering protection from hazards and potential injury. They must also be protected from potentially serious infectious diseases. Child care providers, parents and health professionals should be partners in the prevention and prompt treatment of illness and injury. You can do your part by following your provider's policies, by calling any potential problems to her attention, and by discussing any serious concerns with your local health department of DCFS.

Summer should not be a vacation from learning

The crisis in education and diminished academic achievement among U.S. and Canadian students is one of the hottest topics around today. The media routinely headline slipping math and science scores; declining educational standards and quality; and dwindling skills proficiency.

What does that have to do with summer vacation?
And what's the connection between Louis Harris, the internationally respected pollster, or John Sculley, the chairman and chief executive officer of Apple Computer Inc., and lazy hot summer days when children seem to have little to occupy them? Harris recently released a study sponsored by North Carolina State University on the economic implications of our declining educational standards. Our standard of living will decline sharply over the next couple decades, he concludes, unless we quickly take some significant steps to improve our educational systems.

Sculley echoed that conclusion. "The resources that come from our minds" will shape the economic success of nations, he says.

Building the resources that come from our minds and the minds of our children must become a year-round activity. Learning and education is at least as important an activity during summer recess as it is in the winter just before final exams.

Conventional school schedules, based on a century-and-a-half old agrarian economy, effectively shut down the learning process of many children for three months out of the year. Yet the long-term implications of inadequate education for our children are enormous.

Providing the opportunity for children means augmenting their regular educational experience. Parents should not allow the learning process to be shut down for one-quarter of each year.

The U.S. Department of Education brings the issue to a very individual level in its recent report on dwindling math skills. Students who take more high school and university mathematics courses earn considerably higher income in their first ten years of work than do their peers with fewer math skills. "More math means more money," the study concludes.

Or, to state it another way, more education means better opportunity, enhanced earning potential, improved quality of life.—by RENEE EIMERMAN, director, Vernon Hills

Must of early childhood legislation

1. Must improve program quality.

Must improve the quality and enforcement of standards, including those regulating group size, staff-child ratio, staff qualifications, parental involvement, and health and safety.

Must promote a stable, qualified early childhood work force that meets adequate preservice and continuing education requirements and must address the insufficient compensation, low status, and inadequate working conditions that typify the field.

2. Must provide equitable access to good programs.

Must provide direct subsidy to low-income families. Must make provisions to ensure program stability for children as families move out of poverty. Must provide mechanisms such as community resource and referral to enable parents to make informed program choices.

Must foster socioeconomic and ethnic diversity within programs. Must not intentionally or unintentionally foster segregation on the basis of ethnicity, socioeconomic status, or special need, including "at-risk" status.

3. Must foster high quality service delivery.

Must provide sufficient funds to ensure that high quality services are provided. Must integrate provision of child care and educational services.

Must foster collaboration among services for young children and their families at all levels of government. Must promote coordination among services for children. Must provide for collaboration among early childhood programs within a community. Must allow flexibility to meet individual family and community needs.
